It's hard to believe we are to the end of the bull sale season and the end of our publishing season. We'll return in August with the September issue.

Our run of bull sales is always different, from year to year and sale to sale. There is an incredible number of moving parts that go into marketing registered cattle from the breeder perspective and all the people involved who help and onto the buyer's side.

From the P.R. side of things and working with many of you in terms of advertising, catalogs, promotional items, videos, video sales, social media and more, the goal is still to sell cattle at the highest price possible. Some years, like this one, breeders were just glad to get them moved, due to issues provided by Mother Nature. We seem to have hit it on both ends of the season this year. First it was breeders in the Dakotas who have had one or two years of drought with massive sell-off of cows a year ago. Once the snow started to fall, people's attitudes improved, which in-turn improved the results of the production sales up North.

The huge drought is affecting the southern states and it is now worse there than it was here. We've had snow and rain this winter which is a good thing and will help our situation a great deal. At least we will get started with some moisture.

Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are really suffering. As I write this on

Journagan Ranch/Missouri State: Where Agriculture Meets the Pavement

By B. Lynn Gordon

Leo Journagan was a visionary businessman who built a legacy in both construction and cattle, gaining a new perspective of being a steward of the land from each business entity. He pieced together 3,300-acres in south central Missouri, over a 45-year period, consisting of native grassland, pastures, cropland, creeks, ponds, and natural wooded species. Grazing on these picturesque Ozark hills is the 15th largest Hereford herd in the nation – which became well-known as the Leo Journagan Ranch (LJR), Mountain Grove, MO.

In 2010, four years before his passing, Journagan presented a momentous gift to Missouri State University (MSU), Springfield, MO, donating the entire LJR ranch complete with land, equipment, facilities and more than 1,000 head of cattle. Recorded as the second largest single gift in the history of the 104-year old institution, this more than 7-million-dollar gift created an innovative, outdoor classroom advancing educational opportunities at MSU's William H. Darr College of Agriculture to heights never imagined.

Journagan's donation ensured the ranch remained as a working ranch, as complete one unit, and would create a unique, hands-on experience for future generations of agriculture students. The positive experiences and values he cherished from raising top-quality

Agriculture now has a closer connection to the consumer, with the donation of the Leo Journagan Ranch to Missouri State University.

Hereford cattle in a holistic environment would now build a connection between his ranch, MSU's Springfield campus, 60 miles away and the nearby Mountain Grove campus. You could say, it was Leo Journagan's way of having agriculture meet the pavement.

Impact will live on

Journagan purchased his first Hereford heifers while serving in World War II. After the war, he rented property until the mid-60s when he bought his first piece of land. In 1975, he went on to purchase his first registered Polled Herefords and in 1981 hired Marty Lueck, a pre-veterinary graduate of Southwest Missouri State University (later renamed MSU) to serve as manager. Marty shared Leo's passion for raising quality seedstock and together they took the ranch beyond what even they ever dreamed it could be. Lueck, is well-established and well-respected in the purebred cattle circles, not just in Missouri but internationally, leading the genetic program at LJR since its inception, including overseeing 26 production sales and selling genetics to 40 states, Canada, Mexico, Kazakhstan, and several other international countries. Today the Leo Journagan Ranch of Missouri State University consists of 450 cows, 150 heifers, (split across spring and fall calving) along with a closed herd of 160 commercial females. Eighty to 90 bulls are sold private treaty, annually, a number that may be unmatched in the Hereford breed.

Uniquely, the generous donation by the Journagan family also included people. Lueck continues to serve as ranch manager, and four ranch employees remain employed, all now considered MSU staff. "Leo said he was going to provide for us (employees), and with this donation he did, he took care of us, just as he promised," Lueck says.

Student success

Now MSU students have the rare opportunity to interact with the largest Hereford herd associated with a University in the U.S. “Some students apply to be interns throughout the summer, and other students experience the ranch on classroom visits, working on research or special projects,” Lueck says. Summer interns work in synchronization with the day-to-day ranching operations to provide for the most real-life experience. “For many students, this is an eye-opening experience, they have never worked on a ranch of this size or a seedstock operation with responsibilities of this scale.” Students learn about and assist with duties such as calving, breeding, treating, and feeding cattle to building fence. “My role is to teach them about the things you can’t learn in a textbook but need to know about managing beef cattle—the ranch is one great big lab not encrusted within walls.”

Gaining first-hand ranch experience is now an integral part of education at MSU impacting students with or without an agricultural background. Plus, the living and breathing diverse laboratory has allowed University research, teaching and Extension to study topics in areas from animal science to biology, forestry, geology, genetics, plant science, soil quality, wildlife management and viticulture. The appeal of gaining a real-life perspective is believed to have resulted in a 10% increase of agricultural student enrollment annually since the donation. Overall enrollment at MSU’s college of agriculture has grown from 300 to 800 students in the last ten years.

Justin Sissel, manages MSU’s livestock properties near the Springfield campus and serves as an instructor for the cattle sale preparation class. Students exhibit LJR cattle at four shows annually in Missouri and those who excel in achieving the class requirements, are selected to represent LJR/MSU at the National Western Stock Show (NWSS), Denver, CO. With cattle in tow, and a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity of caring, showing and marketing seedstock, at this premier livestock event, the students have made the ranch and University proud. LJR/MSU has exhibited the division championship pen of three heifers from 2016-2018.

“The students have added a new marketing twist to the ranch,” Lueck says. A ranch facebook page complete with daily updates and videos from events such as the NWSS is one example. “They will post a video and it will have 2,000 hits, it’s amazing and allowed our genetics to reach many new customers. As part of their academic program students have an opportunity to assist in every aspect of the ranch’s annual production sale held the first Saturday in October

“The addition of LJR has made a profound impact on our students,” Sissel says. “For students to have an efficient, working cattle ranch to walk onto at any given moment and to perform the practical aspect of what they are learning in the classroom is immense. And to have a ranch manager like Marty, and a knowledgeable staff, can only undoubtedly give our students a leg up in this competitive world as they make an impact on society with their careers,” emphasizes Sissel.

Both Lueck and Sissel remind students, college is what you make of it, and how this generous gift has created endless opportunities unique to the students at MSU to further their education.

The beef business

The educational focus extends beyond the production side of the industry – teaching about the beef value chain from gate to plate. MSU Beef, was developed to highlight the farm to table movement in the food industry.

The MSU Beef Program starts with 10 to 20 Journagan Ranch steers sorted off from each of the calving seasons (Spring and Fall). After weaning and 60-day pre-conditioning, the calves are moved to Springfield, placed on grass and supplemented with limited grain. Two or three steers are processed monthly, while others remain on feed. A rotation occurs to accommodate a steer removed from the finish pasture, with a steer moved into the backgrounding group. The steers are on a finishing ration for 90-days and harvested at a local USDA inspected plant during an individual lot harvest, to allow for traceability. From the processing plant, the product is delivered to the campus meat lab, and an additional random sample from each lot is collected and sent for further food safety testing.

All meat is dry aged for two weeks, then frozen, with steaks individually packaged and ground beef in clear one-pound cubes. Roasts average 2-3 lbs. Pre-made hamburger patties and beef bratwurst are examples of value-added products sold. Additional specialty cuts are available by special-order. Wholesale clients email their orders to MSU and product is delivered within 24 hours. MSU Beef is currently sold in three Springfield stores, Hy-Vee a Midwest grocery chain, and two farmers market stores associated with the processing plant. Students are involved in all aspects of MSU Beef from feeding, delivering the product and promotion.

Maternal Methods

Nominated for Beef Improvement Federation's, 2016 Seedstock Producer of the Year, LJR remains a foremost Hereford seedstock herd. “The mother cow is the true anchor in our program,” Lueck says. He developed an udder scoring system 35-years ago, and now the ranch has shifted to the guidelines recently developed by the American Hereford Association (AHA). To guarantee the best maternal source, the ranch tracks calving ease, birth weight, ratios, foot, and leg structure is analyzed, progeny weaning ratios are evaluated, and cow weights are collected at weaning time to measure maternal efficiency.

With detailed record-keeping, and focus on maternal traits, it makes sense that LJR has been recognized for 20 Dams of Distinction by the AHA for 15 of the last 20 years. “Dams of Distinction identifies the most efficient and productive females, and that’s our top priority,” says Lueck.

“Our selection criteria is simple,” he adds, “it’s economic driven.” Every decision on the ranch is focused on keeping the ranch sustainable and profitable, a great lesson for the next generation.

Because of this wonderful asset awarded to MSU, the successful legacy of the Leo Journagan Ranch will live on in many ways through the University, the community, and future generations of agriculture.

About the heifers selling: REGISTERED Heifers selling will be some of the best we have ever offered. Lost some pasture and will be only keeping half of what we normally do. Weather has not allowed us to get pictures. All will be on a video and hopefully have many pictures in our catalog. COMMERCIAL Heifers will be from our commercial herd where only a few females have been added in a hundred years.

Visitors welcome

Jill's Editorial...

the first day of Spring, I've heard there was some snow that moved through Kansas at least, but they've already been battling wildfires in the southern states.

I suppose I should mention the EPD formula change once again. Launched right ahead of the bull sale season, great timing, producers were left wondering what the new system meant and how it would affect them. Many commercial people in the area I travel, either didn't realize what had happened or just didn't use them or now don't use them, just use actual weights. I suppose the jury is still out on this one as breeders try to make sense of everything, learn the new system and use the numbers they are getting every week.

In the meantime, we all continue with our great breed of Hereford cattle. They don't know the EPDs changed. Those of us involved in raising Herefords will continue to strive for improvement, one way or another.

I want to congratulate my dad and our family on achieving 100-year status for our ranch. By the way, he gets a pass this month on writing.

In 1918 my grandparents, Art and Elizabeth Bayers started their Hereford herd in Lavina, MT.

My grandfather had been born and raised on a farm in Iowa, the child of Danish immigrants. They farmed and raised cattle but it turns out Grandpa was a great baseball player and ended up playing college and semi-pro (for the time) baseball in Iowa in the late 1800s, early 1900s. I'm unsure of the story in-between, I think it involved traveling through North Dakota and doing a variety of jobs, but he eventually was hired at the bank in Lavina which was just starting up in 1910. The condition was he play baseball for them. So in 1910 or 1911 he headed to Lavina for his first adult job and big adventures in Montana.

Meanwhile, my grandmother Elizabeth Dwyer, who was born and raised in Illinois, decided to head West at the age of 17 or 18. For reasons unknown other than the promise of free land and transportation on the new railroad system, she and her sister Josephine homesteaded north of Lavina, MT. Later, another sister, Stella, and their father William Dwyer also homesteaded in the same area. William was the son of Irish immigrants. The family farmed and raised cattle and horses in the Henry, IL area and also lived in Momence, IL.

Unfortunately I never heard more than one story from my grandmother about the homestead days other than she and her sister used to milk cows for the neighbors in order to make money. I'm sure life wasn't easy in those homestead days and they worked hard for their land. Grandma also worked in the hotel in Lavina.

Meanwhile Art was working in the brand new bank, playing baseball and also filed on a homestead. He was also the Land Man at the bank and administered accounts for people filing on homesteads.

Art and Elizabeth married on Christmas Day, 1912, and ranched near Lavina. They had a few Shorthorns and Herefords and horses in the early days. In 1918 they started their registered Hereford herd and never looked back. They had 6 children including my dad: Helen, Beatrice, Bertha, Jeanne, Wanda and Byron.

They homesteaded there and over the course of some 10 or 15 years in the Lavina area were involved in several businesses including the local bank and selling cars but both of them had roots in agriculture and ended up loving Hereford cattle.

It's been fun looking through old photos, connecting with my cousins, talking to dad about it and looking at old Hereford record books and stories.

It's a lovely, rich history carried forward by dad and other family members who shared that devotion to Herefords and ranching. Thanks for the wonderful legacy.

Final Farewell

Humberto "Bert" Reyes

Texas cattleman, auctioneer, and father, died on February 13, 2018 at age 89. Bert was the middle of 14 children born to Carlos Reyes B. of Durango, Mexico and Maria Villarreal of Goliad, TX. He was raised on a farm outside Berclair, TX. He attended a two-room, segregated Mexican-only school until he went to Goliad High School, where he graduated in 1946. Bert raised Hereford calves since he was 9 and was chosen as one of 14 outstanding 4H members in Mexico and Texas. With his brother Carlos, who returned from serving in WWII, he enrolled at Texas A&M, where his grades, 4H work, and support from his community earned him one of the first Jesse Jones opportunity scholarships. At A&M, Bert followed in the footsteps of his older brothers and found a home in the animal science department. He was a member of the A&M livestock and meat-judging teams and was awarded the showman-of-the-year prize as a senior.

Bert joined the Army upon graduation, and served as a first lieutenant in the infantry during the Korean war, distinguishing himself during the horrific fighting at Heartbreak Ridge. He was awarded a combat infantry badge, 3 bronze service stars, and a UN service medal. After Korea, Bert returned to A&M, where he earned a Master's Degree in Animal Science. Upon graduation, A&M asked him to join a team of professors and technicians to work on a two-year project in a sister school in Saltillo, Mexico. As the only Spanish speaker of the group, Bert learned a lot outside of his discipline and developed relationships with ranchers throughout Northern Mexico. When he returned to Texas, Bert was hired by the Hereford Association as a special representative to move cattle from drought-stricken areas of Texas into Mexico. That work allowed him to travel throughout Texas and Mexico, meeting more ranchers and learning about their herds and needs. By 1958, Bert had opened his own business, Carlos B. and Sons, with the help of his father, then a bookkeeper in Beeville. At first, Bert specialized in exporting cattle, private treaty, and sales management. But after a week of auctioneering school and hundreds of hours of practice while driving the Texas highways, Bert became one of America's most prominent cattle auctioneers and changed the business in Texas. Bert became the first sales manager-auctioneer, a job that had customarily been done by two people. He also refused to specialize in any particular breed of cattle, as most did at the time. Bert innovated cattle auctions by moving sales from weekdays to weekends, in order to allow urban cattle investors to attend and drive up sale prices. As the only Spanish bilingual auctioneer in North America, he pulled new clients into Texas sales.

Bert moved his business to San Antonio and lived at the St. Anthony Hotel for a decade before he married Jane Maverick Welsh. In the mid-sixties, his younger brother Ruben began working for him and they eventually partnered in creating Reyes and Reyes. During his career, Bert build the country's largest cattle-auctioneering firm selling more than $30 million in pure blooded cattle annually. He called many historic auctions, breaking national sales records for many breeds including Beefmaster, Simmental, and Brangus. He broke million-dollar-sales records at the National Simmental Sale in 1974 and two-million-dollar national sales record for all breeds in 1979 at the Herring Ranch Beefmaster dispersal sale. Bert also negotiated the importation of the first pure blooded Simmental bull, Amor, into the United States. He and six other investors worked for two years to purchase Amor in 1970. Bert sold cattle in 28 states and in many parts of Latin America. He was honored to have been consulted by President Johnson while he alive and was asked by Lady Bird to manage dispersal sale of LBJ's cattle upon the former president's death.

Bert never needed a hobby. He loved his work and the cattle business -- it pleases us to know he attended the SA stock show on the day he died. Bert was the oldest tenant and last remaining cattleman at the San Antonio Stock Yards building. He was a teller of tales, able to remember first hand longhorn cattle drives through the streets of Berclair during the 1930s and the heyday of San Antonio's cattle business. For the past year, Bert has been working with the Texas A&M San Antonio Library archiving his cattle-business records, logging thousands of photographs, and providing an oral history for researchers.

While proud of his own accomplishments, Bert realized they were built upon his parents' love and their investment in his education and the education of his siblings. He was incredibly proud of the accomplishments of his six sisters, all teachers in the public school system, and his seven brothers who entered the business community. He honored the sacrifice of his mother and the work his father did to integrate schools in their community. Bert is survived by his daughter Carmelita Reyes; son-in-law Jeffrey Johns; grandsons Carlos and Mateo Johns; sister Estella Naranjo; brother Mike Reyes (Elida), brother-in-law Dr. Victor Rodriguez; and loving companion for many years Sharon Buchta. He was preceded in death by his parents Carlos and Maria Reyes; sisters Rachel, Tillie, Christina, Florinda, and Martha; brothers Lucas, Alvino, Tony, Carlos Jr., Pete, and Ruben; ex-wife Jane Maverick Welsh; and dear friend Mary Annah Hoey-Alemán.

Jay Pearson

Jay Fred Pearson, 88, passed peacefully Dec. 7, 2017, due to natural causes. He was living under the loving care of his granddaughter Alexis (Pearson) and Alec Olsen in Rexburg for the last few months of his life.

He was born Feb. 19, 1929, to Fred and Alice (Putnam) Pearson in the house he lived at most of his life in Lost River. Jay was raised in Leadore on the family ranch, known as the Oxbow, with his two sisters, Thelma and Freida. In 1943, they sold the Oxbow and purchased the current ranch from his mother's family. He graduated from Butte High School and then attended Ricks College, where he played on the basketball team. He then went to Utah State University, where he was a member of the Livestock Judging Team and graduated with a degree in animal science. He met Sue Wixom Brower at a dance, an activity they would continue to enjoy throughout their lives. On Aug. 4, 1966, Jay married Sue. Jay and Sue later had two children, Jaylin and Fred.

He was a lifelong rancher, raising registered Hereford and Red Angus cattle. Jay served on many committees. He was a 4-H leader for 20 years and received many awards and trophies for his cattle and his horses. He felt he never worked a day because he was able to do what he loved.

Jay joined The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints later in life and remained active and faithful to the end, serving in many callings throughout his life. He had many lifelong friends in the valley that he loved.

Jay is survived by his sister, Freida (Ray) Tibbitts; his children, Jaylin (Cody) Schmidt and Fred (Deesa) Pearson; stepchildren, Kirk (Lynette) Brower, Paula (John) Worsley and Malia (Jerry) Pruitt; and many grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, Sue; his parents, Fred and Alice; and his sister, Thelma.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations made to Fisher Center for Alzheimer's Research, www.alzinfo.org or 1-800-259-4636.

Nadine Jeanette Wolf

Nadine Jeanette (Sward) Wolf, 82 of Hulett, WY passed away February 3, 2018 at Belle Estate Senior Living in Belle Fourche, SD after a ten-year battle with cancer.

Nadine was born April 1, 1935 on a neighbor's farm near Northport, NE. Nadine was the youngest of five sisters born to Carl Fredrick Sward and Clara Louisa (Lapping) Sward.

Nadine attended first through third grade in Northport, NE, then grades four through twelve in Bridgeport, NE. Nadine was a Girl's State delegate in 1952 in Lincoln, NE. She was valedictorian of her class of 1953. After high school Nadine attended West Nebraska General Nursing School in Scottsbluff, NE. While attending nurses training Nadine and her classmates lived in an old sugar beet factory in Gering that had been converted into a dorm. Following graduation from nurses training Nadine worked as a scrub nurse at the hospital in Bridgeport for one year, then she went to work in a clinic for Dr. Lovett, she worked for him for three years.

On September 3, 1960, Nadine married John Calvin Wolf, they moved to the family ranch outside of Hulett, where she resided until her death. The couple had two children Jennifer and Tom. On February 1, 1966 Nadine went to work at the Hulett School as the school nurse. She retired in 2000. Nadine was active in the First Baptist Church of Hulett where she played piano or organ almost every Sunday. Nadine was also a member of the church choir. Along with playing for church, Nadine enjoyed singing duets and playing for funerals and weddings.

She is survived by her children, Jennifer (Don) Evans of Wheatland, WY, and Tom (Donna) Wolf of Hulett; grandchildren, Joshua (Rochelle) Evans of Wheatland, Christopher (Jessica) Evans of Summerfield, NC, Calvin (Kristin) Wolf, and Shane (Katie) Wolf all of Hulett; great-grandchildren, Mikayla Lawrence and Kohen Evans of Summerfield, Turner McCormick, Skye and Paisley Evans of Wheatland; and sister, Carol Johnson of Alliance, NE; step brother in-law, Robert (Naomi) Terhune and numerous nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents; sisters, Iva Kafer, Jackie Carlson, Betty Smith and her husband, John Wolf.

Edward Charles Hawks

By the age of four, Ed Hawks knew that he was born to be a cattleman. He fulfilled his childhood dream until he passed away on Sunday, February 25, 2018, of natural causes on the ranch that he loved.

Edward Charles Hawks was born July 19, 1953, in Sturgis, SD, to Charles and Mildred Hawks. He attended first through eighth grades at Plainview School and attended and graduated from Sturgis Brown High School in 1971. In the fall of 1971, he enlisted in the US Air Force and served most of his career in Seoul, Korea. He received an honorable discharge in the fall of 1974, and returned to the family ranch. He spent the ensuing years passionately improving his registered Hereford breed.

Ed waited patiently to find the perfect wife for him. While attending his 20 year class reunion, Ed found her in his high school classmate, Gloria LeLaChaur. In August of 1992, Ed and Gloria were united in marriage at the Presbyterian Church in Sturgis and Ed helped Gloria raise her two children, Cyndi and Bryan, as his own.

Gloria changed Ed's life by introducing him to golf, bowling, white water rafting (which he still did in blue jeans), parasailing, and lots of other travel and crazy adventures. She showed Ed that there was another world beyond the ranch. Ed changed Gloria's life by sharing his faith with her and her children. He was an active member in the Church of Christ.

Ed carried on his father's fudge making tradition and rewarded his bull buyers with a tin of fudge. Ed's fudge was a staple at the community potlucks and he was proud that his son, Bryan, is carrying on the family tradition.

Ed never complained and was always optimistic. Ed loved spending time with friends and family and especially loved his role as Papa Eddie to his two grandchildren. He recently taught his granddaughter to play Cribbage and he never got tired of spending time around the kitchen table playing cards. Ed recently discovered Facebook and would spend hours "friending" people he knew, and people he didn't.

Ed is survived by his wife, Gloria; his children, Cyndi (Matt Nelson), Sergeant Bluff, IA, and their children, Makenna and Parker, and Bryan Bralley (Kyle Martinek), Omaha, NE. He is also survived by his brother, Gary (Connie), Tyndall, SD; sisters, Sue (Curtis Jones), Piedmont, SD, and Karen (Al Shade), Davis, SD; and numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Charles and Mildred Hawks.

Ed Hawks

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.kinkadefunerals.com.

Clint Earl Schultz

Clint Earl Schultz, 67 of Williston, North Dakota, passed away peacefully Saturday morning, March 17, 2018 at Vida, MT under the care of hospice.

Clint was born August 3, 1950 to Adolph 'Duffy' and Ellamae Schultz in Williston ND. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith in the Wilmington Lutheran Church. Clint attended school in Arnegard and Watford City, ND and graduated from Watford City in 1968.

Clint growing up was a typical farm boy that loved animals and farming. He was raised on a farm southwest of Arnegard with a wide grin and outgoing personality. He and his brothers, Mark and Larry, were always trying to think of mischievous way to have a good laugh. Unfortunately their little sister, Becky, was the brunt of many tricks and jokes, always in fun because his siblings were very dear to him.

After a short time at UND-Williston Clint decided that college wasn't for him and enlisted with the North Dakota National Guard. He ascended to the rank of Captain. He excelled in the Guard and was a bridge building specialist. The time he spent in the Guards was very honorable and meaningful for him.

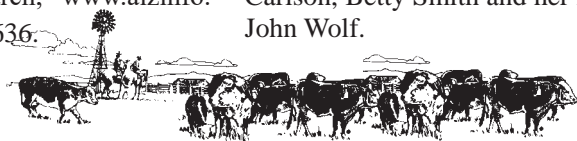

He was united in marriage to Judy Heaslet on June 23, 1973 in Arnegard, ND. They made their home in Grenora, ND where they started and raised their family. Three wonderful daughters Krista, Marcia, and Erica, were born and instantly became the apple of his eye. He always said the good Lord blessed him with three daughters because he couldn't imagine being a father to a son. These three daughters were 'his girls!'

Clint made his way in the world as a farmer and later at the grain elevator in Grenora. He retired in 2004 and moved to Williston in 2010. In 2015 he moved to his "ranch retirement" home in Vida, MT.

The love of the outdoors started at a young age, hunting on the creek, learning to trap, and shooting with his brothers. Clint was an avid hunter and loved anything to do with the great outdoors. He took several hunting trips with his friends from the Grenora Gun Club. This group of guys meant a lot to him and they were always out for a good time. He instilled his love of hunting and fishing with his girls. They spent days looking for the right buck and trolling the waters where ever the fishing was good.

Clint loved music and played guitar often with his dad, family and friends, many hours where spent with his girls singing, dancing and playing music trivia. He also had a love of classic cars especially Plymouth 'Cudas. And at one time he held his private pilot's license which he was also very proud of.

He was overjoyed to welcome the only grandson followed by six little girls. They were all spoiled by Papa Clint from the day they were born.

He taught hunter safety for many years and was the municipal court judge for the City of Grenora. He was a member of the St. Olaf Lutheran Church and served on its board. He was also a member of the Grenora Gun Club and helped build its clubhouse.

Surviving Clint are his wife, Judy Schultz of Williston; mother, Ellamea Pasternak of Williston; daughters, Krista and husband Matt Beery and their children, Ethan and Leah, of Vida, MT, Marcia and her husband, Matt Baker and their children, Haley and Brooklyn, of Williston, and Erica and her husband, Jeremy Myers and their children, Brynlee, Zayla and Maeley of Williston; brothers, Mark Schultz of Arnegard, Larry (Carol) Schultz of Roy, MT; sister, Becky and her husband, Cal Tininenko of Spearfish, SD; uncle, Glen Fisketjon of Superior WI; sister-in-law, Pat and Donnie Leiseth of Watford City and many nieces and nephews.

He is preceded in death by his father, Duffy Schultz and stepfather, Nick Pasternak.

George "Tee" Knox

George W. Knox of Tarzan, Texas passed away peacefully at his Ranch Home on Thursday afternoon, March 15, 2018.

"Tee" as his friends and family knew him, was born on May 18, 1928 in Midland, TX. Tee was a dedicated rancher and cowman all of his life. He dearly loved ranching, ranch conservation, and Hereford cattle and steer shows. He raised many champion steers that were exhibited at the major shows in Texas.

Mr. Knox graduated from high school in Midland and from college at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, NM with a 3.5 GPA and a degree in Animal Husbandry. He is also a past President of the Texas Hereford Association.

Tee is survived by his daughter, Kathy Knox Buchholz and spouse Gary, of Waxahachie, TX, as well as several cousins, nieces, nephews and friends.

There will be a visitation at Ellis

Funeral Home on Sunday, March 18, 2018 from 5 to 7 pm. A funeral service will be held in the Ellis Funeral Home Chapel on Monday, March 19, 2018 at 2 pm. Burial will follow at Resthaven Memorial Park. Pallbearers are: Chuck Buchholz, Dawson Burns, Morgan Cox, Lee Howard, Johnny Louder and Zane Robinson. Honorary Pallbearers are: Donnell Echols, Bud Gray, Jim Robertson, Norman Schoonover and Sammy Yates. Memorials may be sent to Home Hospice at 111 E. 7th, Ste A, Big Spring, TX 79720 or to the Texas Hereford Youth Foundation at 4609 Airport Freeway, Fort Worth, TX 76117.

Jane Durham

Jane Harriet Stovall Durham was born on Saturday, May 10, 1930, in Frederick, OK. She died peacefully on Sunday, March 18, 2018, in Tulsa, OK, surrounded by her family.

Jane was the first child of Alfred Swan Stovall, a cotton buyer, and Jessie Ellison Wagner Stovall, a school librarian. She spent her childhood in Frederick and graduated from Frederick High School.

She received a bachelor degree in Bacteriology from the University of Texas in Austin in 1952.

Jane Durham

Jane married Norman Nevill Durham, her Bacteriology lab instructor, on July 26, 1952, in Muleshoe, TX. They moved to Stillwater, OK, when Norman accepted a position with Oklahoma State University. For many years Jane dedicated herself to her family, actively participating in university functions, Girl Scouts and school vocal and band functions. She was a wonderful example of a strong, smart and loving woman to her daughters.

Jane believed in lifelong learning and earned an additional bachelor degree in Animal Science from Oklahoma State University in 1980. She applied this knowledge toward the operation of the Hereford cattle ranch she and Norman established. She actively pursued new information related to the Hereford breed, and implemented the use of performance data to drive continuous improvement for their herd. Jane was active in many organizations related to the cattle industry including the Payne County Cattle Producers Association, the Oklahoma Hereford Association, the Oklahoma and National Polled-ettes Associations, the Hereford Women of Oklahoma and the American Hereford Women Association. She served on numerous advisory committees and board of directors for many of these organizations, stepping into officer and chairman positions many times. Jane's efforts in the cattle industry earned her the Master Breeder Award from the OSU Department of Animal Science, the Breeder of the Year award from the Oklahoma Hereford Association, and recognition as the National Hereford Woman of the Year from the American Hereford Women Association.

Jane was an active member of P.E.O. Chapter BU, an organization that works to provide educational opportunities for women. She served as chapter president many times and was a valued resource for chapter members. Jane was a special initiate of the Alpha Upsilon chapter of the Zeta Tau Alpha fraternity in 1968, serving as an advisor for several years. She was a dedicated OSU fan and had season tickets to Cowboy football and Cowgirl basketball events. The First Presbyterian Church was the recipient of her dedication and devotion to the Second Mile Sewing group for over 40 years, where she provided guidance and leadership to provide hand-made prayer shawls for those in need of spiritual support.

Jane is survived by her husband Norman, and daughters Susan Durham (Richard Mueller), Janet Gaskins (Bradley), Diane Durham and Linda Bender (David). Her legacy continues with her five grandchildren: Jonathan (Rick) Miller, Melissa Miller, Joshua Miller, Breawna Bender, and Sarah Mueller, and one great-grandson Blake Scott. She is also survived by her sister, Helen Stovall Alexander of Glenside, PA, and her niece Jessica Alexander Koenen of Portland, OR.

In honor of Jane's life the family requests memorial contributions be made to the First Presbyterian Church Second Mile Sewing group, the Oklahoma Hereford Association, the OSU Department of Animal Science, or to the charity of your choice. She was AWE-SOME!

Condolences may be sent to the family and an online obituary viewed by visiting www.strodefh.com

Volume buyers were Raleigh & Leigh Leesman, Justin Briggs, and Schulte Farms. Besides South Dakota cattle sold into North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Texas, and Canada.

The Best Hereford Beef Can Now Be Found Local

Each week, we buy corn fed finished cattle primarily in this region. However, we reach beyond the strike zone to find the best Herefords wherever they might be fed in the Midwest. Even after we've concluded our normal weekly trade, we are never too full for Herefords and Baldies. We are always in the market to buy finished Herefords and we offer a $25 premium per head for Hereford program qualifiers. If you'd like your finished calves in our Hereford program, we can introduce you to partner feed yards who custom feed or who buy Hereford and Baldie calves. Whether you want to market your feeder calves or retain ownership, let us help you direct your load lot Hereford influenced feeder cattle into our primary trade area.
