25TH ANNIVERSARY

Editorial Comments...

Jill Bayers Hotchkiss

Jill Hotchkiss

Seems like it's been a long time since our last issue. A lot of things have happened and the fall female and bull sale run is almost done, ushering in 2022! The winter bull sale run for us starts in mid-January. I am amazed how strong the sales have been and I hope that trend continues.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all of you. We're all looking forward to a great new year.

This marks our 25th anniversary year of publishing Hereford America. This season we are bringing you articles on registered breeders who have made a big difference in the breed as well as those who are great supporters of our publication. We hope you enjoy these articles throughout the year and the coming years.

Marc and I went to the American Hereford Association's annual meeting and events back in late October. An outstanding set of speakers, awards, officer election and meeting kept all the participants busy. The American Royal show was also going on at the same time so if you got tired of being cooped up at the convention you could go down to the Royal and look at cattle and get a little poop on your boots. It was wonderful to see old friends and make new acquaintances.

For me the absolute highlight was the Hall of Fame and Hall of Merit awards. We knew most of the people being inducted and are good friends with several of them. These honors are so meaningful for the families

Holden Herefords: Stacking Genetics to Perform Best for Their Customers

By Terra Ochsner

Eric Lawver, and son Brayton with HH Advance 9073. Eric is Brooke Holden's husband. Brayton is the first grandson for Jack and Tresha Holden.

It's impossible to mention Holden Herefords without talking about Line 1 breeding, and it's been that way since the very beginning. Les Holden purchased his first Line 1 bull from the Fort Keogh Livestock and Range Research Laboratory in 1947.

According to the USDA ARS, "Line One has been closed [...] longer than any other identified line of beef cattle."

Founded in 1934 with two sons of Advance Domino 13, "work with Line 1 has contributed greatly to the understanding of maternal genetic effects in beef cattle. The influence of a cow's milk production on the growth of her calf is one well-recognized example."

Churchill Cattle Company: Do the Work to Make the Breed Better

by Terra Ochsner

Bulls with the Bridger Mountains in the background. Morgan Meisenheimer pictures the Churchill cattle and focuses a lot on scenic photos to help paint an all-around picture of their herd.

"Churchill" has become a household name in the Hereford world, and while they've staked their claim in the industry, Dale and Nancy Venhuizen's beginning as producers was a humble one, and it all started with Dale's father.

"I grew up with Herefords," Dale recalled. "My dad had good, quality cattle."

It was never a question in Dale's mind that he'd stick with the Hereford breed as he grew up around them. When it came time for Dale to go out on his own after high school, he'd started to build his own herd. One of his cows had a "good bull calf," and he had to think of a worthy name.

"I ended up naming him Lord Churchill, and I have no idea why," Dale laughed.

Not only would Lord Churchill become the namesake for their operation and give Dale the confidence he needed as a young breeder, but he helped build the Venhuizen family. Dale ended up taking him to the Nugget sale in Reno, Nevada.

"{Lord Churchill} topped that sale

Elkington Polled Herefords have made a positive impact on our cowherd. When we sorted our replacement heifers, most of the Hereford cross calves retained were sired by Elkington Bulls. They are high volume, deep ribbed females that will make moderate-framed, easy fleshing cows that we appreciate in our family operation. We plan to add more Elkington Bulls this year.

JAMES CARMICHAEL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

James Carmichael, Meadow, SD, was a lifelong Hereford breeder and cattleman. James Carmichael was a quiet man, very devoted to his family and friends. He had a great appreciation of all livestock, but especially his Hereford cattle. He very much appreciated the quiet, peaceful range country they lived in. James Carmichael passed away in September 2007.

The Carmichael family has dedicated this scholarship fund to James Carmichael's memory. His widow and children wish to honor his name and memory by giving young people that have a love for Hereford cattle and agriculture an opportunity to further their education in the hope of providing strong leadership for the agricultural world in the future.

and friends. The Hall of Fame recipients were Jim Courtney, Bob Harrell, Dale Micheli and Laurence Duncan. Hall of Merit recipients were Jim Birdwell and Jim Meents. Congratulations to all the recipients and their families. These are the highest honors given by the American Hereford Association. Two of the recipients told me basically never in their wildest dreams did they think they would be chosen for the honor of Hall of Fame. I'm sure most of the recipients felt that way. It's an incredible fraternity to belong to. Can't wait to see who is selected next year. Coverage of these awards are within this issue.

While production sales have been great, uncertainty in the feeder cattle and cull cow/bull market remains. In our area you just don't know what to expect from one week to the next although it's getting a little better. Of course there are some cattle buyers at local sale barns who like to play favorites on color and breed, not paying mind to phenotypic quality. It's not a new thing, that's for sure. Some markets are better than others and ranchers, Hereford breeders in particular, get their favorite places to sell, and why wouldn't they. It's a big part of marketing if you are selling by the pound at a livestock auction barn. As we all know, some markets or auctions barns discriminate against good

Deb and Gus Gustafson from Junction City, KS were in Kansas City for some of the AJHA/AHA events.

Hereford cattle and other breeds seemingly because of the color of their hides. When it starts spilling over into finished cattle more questions arise.

My hat is off to Carrie Longwood Stadheim, Editor of Tri-State Livestock News, who recently wrote an in-depth article in which she examines an issue last summer and fall whereby "some buyers of market-ready beef cattle were paying bonuses for Hereford and Hereford influence cattle, while many others were nearly refusing to buy anything but black-hided cattle for slaughter." The article was in the December 4th issue with the title "Color blind? Has breed or color preference shifted?"

Carrie is an excellent investigative reporter for the livestock industry. She grew up on a Hereford ranch and she and her husband, Jeremy Stadheim, continue to raise Herefords. (See Longwood article in our October issue.) So while she is definitely vested in the Hereford breed, she is also able to report objectively, which makes this such a good article.

She is not one to back down and I applaud her for tackling this subject and putting it in print. She was quite fair in her writing and interviews which included Nick Rausch who works for Greater Omaha. If there is room in this issue, the article will be included. I encourage you though to check it out on the Tri-State Livestock News website: www.tsln.com

Marc and I would like to thank the Kansas Hereford Association (KHA) for honoring us with the Friend of KHA award. We are deeply touched and humbled that we were selected for this honor.

— JBH

Though the original intent was “to capture heterosis — or hybrid vigor — and produce a consistent product by crossing inbred lines,” the detrimental effects of strict, and closely related inbreeding on production efficiency and the expression of recessive defects were obvious, the USDA says.

On a positive note, though, Line 1 cattle have shown that “the Hereford-Angus cross female is widely viewed as one of the best females available for commercial beef production. In large part, because of heterosis, these cross-bred cattle have high fertility, are long-lived, and thrive in temperate regions,” USDA says. “Today, more than half of all Herefords recorded in the United States trace part of their ancestry to Line 1.”

Now, nearly 75 years after his great grandfather, Jack Holden and his family are 100 percent invested in the power of line breeding and are carrying on the Line 1 tradition in a big way.

“It is a big part of what we’re known for,” Holden said. “There’s no doubt about the consistency of line breeding.”

This consistency is what has helped Holden customers “feel comfortable” because “what you see is what you get,” Holden explained.

And what you’re going to see when you look through their cattle is uniformity and functionality across the board.

“We breed for quality,” he said. “If you don’t like the first five or 10, you won’t like the next 300.”

More specifically, Holdens don’t believe in chasing trends or breeding “the outliers.” Instead, they look to make complimentary pairings.

“We aren’t trying to raise the ultimate curve bender,” he said. “We look for balanced traits across the board.”

Fall bulls out on pasture at Holden Herefords near Valier, Montana.

Holden acknowledged that you could select consistent phenotypic traits without line breeding, however, they won’t have that consistency with their pedigrees.”

“The strength of our program is our selection, and when you look at our program, we are above average across the board all the time,” Holden said.

A large part of their success, Holden added, has to be attributed to their Line 1 genetics which have stood the test of time when other line breeding families couldn’t.

“There’s been a lot of families of cattle that were line bred, and a lot of them couldn’t withstand it” because those non-Line 1 families had genetic issues that “stacked up over time [...] whether it was an udder issue or a true recessive genetic defect,” Holden explained.

But, that’s not to say that Line 1 cattle are immune to the potential risks of line breeding; with that in mind, Holdens are extremely intentional with their breeding decisions to avoid those issues and to promote genetic progress at the same time.

With line breeding, “you exaggerate good traits, and you can exaggerate bad traits,” Holden conceded. “You have to be extra careful.”

One measure that’s taken is to cull extremely hard, especially when it comes to the fertility of their females.

“We use a short 50-day breeding season followed by a 30 day clean up. All cows that don’t breed in the first 50 days are sold unless there is a very specific reason for them not breeding,” Holden said. “This is one of our checks and balances to make sure we keep everything in order and don’t push any traits too far.”

When it comes to the bulls used in their herd, they stick around for a maximum of three breeding seasons because in that time, Holden said, “a bull should raise a son better than himself. We want to turn the generations and keep the progress moving.”

To push their genetics forward, Holdens have incorporated an elaborate embryo transfer program with only proven females because “you can’t have too many great cows stacked in a pedigree,” Holden explained.

Additionally, the Holden outfit has historically put a heavy emphasis on the data behind their breeding strategies.

“We have to look five or six years

Holden...

ahead on breeding," Holden said. "We are 100 percent focused on data."

Not only does this allow Holdens to mitigate any potential issues that could arise with line breeding, but it helps them to keep their genetics relevant and competitive.

"We always select cattle to improve our herd, but at the point we're at, it takes an incredible individual to make the needle move," Holden mentioned. "The bar is already set pretty high."

Now, it's important to note that just because the Holden herd remains closed, they still recognize the great things that are out there in the Hereford breed. Their decision to maintain their Line 1 exclusive program stems almost entirely from what these genetics can go out and do for others.

"There are a lot of good bulls in the breed," Holden said. "But that's our program."

When asked, hypothetically, why he doesn't go out and tap into some of those other great programs, Holden said that it would hamper what the Line

HH Miss Advance 4287B is the dam of two of their high selling bulls last year. Their 0022H bull is out of this cow, and he sold for $75,000 for 1/2 interest and combines a great phenotype with lots of pigment and calving ease.

HH 8046F and 4287 are what Holden's deem the "ideal Line 1 female." HH Miss Advance 8046F is the dam of their 0043H bull that sold for $100,000 last spring.

1 breeding could do for his own customers.

"If I bring in an unrelated bull, I'd be seeing that kick myself and taking it away from customers," Holden stated. Put simply, the "years of performance selection that pops out" in Holden cattle would be expressed more heavily in their own herd instead.

One way Holden cattle are really exceptional for their customers is with their "extra weight at weaning," he said. "It's obvious to the eye."

One customer called and said he "weighed their baldy calves and they were 80 pounds different from their straight blacks," Holden explained. "We sell pounds and efficiency."

The consistency and quality of Holden genetics have also been useful when breeders get in a bind with their own herds and need to get things back on track.

"Over the years, the Line 1 has always been the source that they come back to to fix problems in their herd," especially when breeders were chasing extremes and defects like dwarfism surfaced, Holden said. "What saved us back then is that when other cattle had wrecks, they needed what we had.”

When it comes down to it, though, Jack Holden puts as much time, effort, and passion into his program because he takes a lot of pride in carrying on his great-grandfather’s legacy – which was not something he was expected to do, but rather it was a conscious choice.

In fact, at one point in his life, Jack got into the Angus business with his dad.

“For a while, I had Angus, and I just had them,” Holden remembered. “I didn’t love them like I loved the Herefords.”

So, he dove headfirst into the industry that he really loved.

He recalled telling his grandfather that “if you’re going to pass this on to me, I’ll do my best to carry on everything you’ve done.”

And Jack has done more than just carry it on – he’s helped make the Holden name a household one in the cattle business across the United States and around the world.

For instance, Holdens have made a big impact in Uruguay which, Jack mentioned, “has a very strong Hereford base in their national cowherd and has a great group of Hereford breeders.”

“We have exported semen down there for quite a few years now and the Line 1 cattle have had a very strong influence in the Horned herds in Uruguay,” he added.

“We also have several clients in Australia that have imported semen from Line 1 bulls to use,” Holden said. “We have visitors from Australia almost every year coming over to see the next generation of young sires and select the ones they like to use in their herds.”

With the help of JD Evans, who has been working alongside Jack for over 25 years, and now the help of his son and son-in-law, the Holdens are able to host two outstanding sales each year: their “Miss Advance Female Sale,” which took place in September, averaged over $7500 on 30 lots with a top of $31,500. They’ll be hosting their 56th annual production sale in the Spring.

Jack bought into what Les built, and he couldn’t be happier that the “fourth generation is back – it’s pretty exciting.”

On a larger scale, what’s particularly exciting, Holden concluded, is that the perception of Hereford cattle is shifting, especially in the commercial side of things, and no matter who you are, or what your program consists of, he wants to see the success of the Hereford breed.

“People involved in the Hereford breed are some of the very best, and it’s great to see that perception is finally on our side,” Holden said. “I don’t care what you raise, good Hereford cattle are good for all of us.”

and gave me enough money and confidence to go buy a ring for Nancy," Dale said. "He got our married life started."

Dale and Nancy officially started the Churchill herd in the 1980s with the purchase of a few small cowherds to establish the ground floor of their program. With all of the hope, passion, and confidence in the world in what they were trying to do, Dale and Nancy weren't immune to the hardships that the ag industry, and specifically the Hereford breed, experienced during those years.

"The 1980s weren't good to agriculture. It was not easy," Dale said. "We were a young family just trying to make it while raising young kids."

At times, Dale wasn't sure they were going to make it and "thought the breed would drop out of sight." But looking back now, the Venhuizen's stuck with it because they "always enjoyed Herefords and Hereford people," and he's proud of how the breed "built back its reputation."

As Herefords began to reestablish their footing in the 1990s and made "some real progress" in the 2000s, so did the Churchill program.

Now, over 40 years later, the notoriety of their herd has grown, but one thing, the most important thing, has stayed the same.

Dale has loved studying and evaluating good, Hereford cattle since he was young.

Dale and Nancy pictured with eight of their now nine grandchildren. For them, it's exciting that the kids are getting old enough to really get their hands dirty when they visit the ranch.

"Currently, it's just Nancy and me making decisions together," Dale stated.

Their four daughters, Katie, Anne, Megan, and Camille, all have their own careers, and three live out of state with their own families.

"They help out here, just not in a day-to-day capacity," he said, and as time has gone on, Dale and Nancy have started to take the future of the ranch "day-by-day and year-by-year."

The Churchill ranch, like any other, is no small undertaking, especially with their goal of raising exceptional cattle that are competitive in the Hereford world and across all breeds. Annually, they host a fall female sale with about 100 outstanding females, a spring bull sale with approximately 125 head, and they'll have nearly 350 pairs when calving season is said and done.

To keep them from chasing their tails, Dale and Nancy are considering downsizing to a more manageable number during calving season, but until then, they have managed to enlist the help of a "great crew" to make things run smoothly.

Buck Ward has been with the Venhuizen's for five years now, and he "manages the feedlot and cowherd, is in charge of farming, and works with commercial bull buyers," Dale said.

"We have used the DCR 428B Manhattan 6007 bull since the fall of 2018. We calve in the summer so he has produced two crops of calves for us. He has bred most of our replacement heifers and they have all calved on the range, 100% unassisted, with no losses. Comparing steers out of the same cows, Manhattan 6007 yearling steers in mid-November, weigh 10-16% more. Yearlings from this bull are also at the top 10% in weight coming off summer range in October and keep gaining on fall and winter pasture. This is the time of year when a yearling that can keep gaining at a rate over 1.5 lbs a day on fall and early winter grass, lowers feed costs but will not lose quality in the final product. Bulls like these are what make our operation profitable, more pounds of beef at a lower cost of production, without a loss in quality."

They also take advantage of the fact that their ranch is only 20 miles from their alma mater: Montana State University. They “rely on young people” who come out and work part-time, and they’ve hit the jackpot with some great help over the years.

Colby Atchinson is studying engineering at MSU and has been helping on the ranch for three years now.

“He’s everything you could possibly ask for in an employee,” Dale said.

Megan Leep has done a lot of sale prep for the ranch, and they even had an intern from Iowa who wanted to gain some experience and fulfill a dream of living in Montana.

“That went really well,” he said. “Internships don’t always work well, but sometimes it works out for both of you.

Outside of the physical labor that goes into making a ranch run smoothly, Dale and Nancy have committed wholeheartedly to the marketing of their operation. They like to incorporate a mix of traditional print advertising while also branching out into the virtual space.

In order to achieve their goal of producing and marketing “the very best quality Hereford genetics for the local, national, and international beef industry,” the Venhuizens have been working with Morgan Meisenheimer to take their photos, build ads, and put together their sale catalog.

They’re proud of the work Meisenheimer does, because the pictures she takes “aren’t photo-shopped,” Dale said. “They are what they are.”

The sleek design of their website and their social media presence, which is a different approach than they’ve had in the past, is thanks to the help of Katie Songer.

“The social media deal is pretty incredible,” he explained. “It’s today’s news, on demand.”

However, for any of this, the photos, the Fall female and Spring bull sales, the website, and social media, to be effective, it comes down entirely to the quality of the cattle. Dale and Nancy believe that intricate genetic planning is necessary because, in order “to be viable two years from now, we have to make smart decisions today,” he said.

“Are genomics and EPDs perfect? I don’t know. But, they help,” Dale mentioned.

Churchill cattle are evaluated objectively from a young age by blending together the right recipe of birthweight, weaning weight, and yearling weight and putting it all “in an eye-appealing package,” he said.

“They have to look good – there’s a sense of pride in ownership,” Dale stated.

The Churchill program is also young in terms of the cattle they use. While some operations are leery of using genetics before the individual has really proven themselves, Dale has the utmost confidence because he’s done extensive genetic research and has been planning for these cattle for years prior to when they were born.

“We have a high level of confidence in our cattle from a young age,” Dale said. “There’s a cowboy sense on the ranch with EPD’s and genomics along with how we see cattle put together.”

Aside from raising elite, home-raised cattle such as Churchill Sensation 028X, who Dale believes “did a lot of good for the breed,” the Venhuizens aren’t shy about investing in quality genetics from other producers; However, being the planners that they are, Dale and Nancy have a select group of herds from other operations that they have trust and confidence in.

One investment that they’re particularly excit-

Neal Ward

On Friday night October 15, 2021 Neal DeLoy Ward (62) of Blackfoot, ID passed away. Neal loved his family, God and country. Neal, the son of DeLoy and Viola Ward, grew up in Rexburg, ID and was an avid scouter earning his Eagle and his American Farmer degree in FFA. He married his high school sweetheart Shelly Greene in the Idaho Falls Temple on March 21, 1980. Neal and Shelly moved to Blackfoot, ID to raise kids, cows, hay and grain. He passed his love of cows and the farm to his kids and grandkids. They have all helped with both the farm and cows.

Neal started a life-long love of cows and farming at the age of 3 as he rode a tractor with his dad and even the herd bull on his own when he was a little older. He accomplished his dream of owning and operating a successful farming and seedstock operations in both Madison and Bingham Counties and is well known for his purebred cattle across the United States and beyond. He owned Wooden Shoe Farms and Timber Creek Ranch which raise and sell registered Polled Hereford and Angus cattle. His cattle have won many awards at state, regional and national shows.

Neal had a big heart and helped a lot of people. Everyone knew him as the person that could tell a good story that even in sad situations could make everyone laugh and smile.

He will be greatly missed by his family including: wife Shelly Ward, son Brad Ward (Blackfoot, ID) and his wife Brittany Ward and their children Jaylin, Zeke, Zade, Emma, Breck and Locke; his daughter Alicia Billman (Rigby, ID) and her husband Steve Billman and their children Tymber, Chyloh, and Cache; his daughter Jennifer Nelson (Buhl, ID) and her husband Arlin Nelson and their children Boedon, Treven, and Case; his son Kyle Ward (Blackfoot, ID); and his daughter Kelsie Ward (Santaquin, UT) and partner Brooke Ward; his parents DeLoy and Viola Ward (Rexburg, ID); mother-in-law Ada Greene (Archer, ID); brother Robert (Karen) Ward (Mountain Home, ID), sister Eileen (Glenn) Bradbury (Perry, UT), sister Ruby Ward (Logan, UT), sister Susan Rose (Matt) Lindsey (Rigby, ID) brother Perry (Holly) Ward (Blackfoot, ID), and more including in-laws, Bryant & Michelle Greene (Archer, ID), Gary & Wendy Wilcox (Archer, ID), Richard & Julie Griffel (Ashton, ID) and many nieces and nephews.

Condolences can be sent to the family at www.hawkerfuneralhome.com.

Arlo Janssen

Arlo Janssen, 82, died in Klamath Falls, OR, on Nov. 4. He was born Jan. 8, 1939, to Herschel "Pete" Janssen and Marian Craig Janssen. He married Abbie Ryan on March 17, 1967, and they had one daughter, Andra Campbell, on Dec. 15, 1971. Arlo and Abbie divorced in 1973.

Arlo was active in sports in high school and received a full ride scholarship to Kansas State University for basketball. In typical Arlo style, he walked into and out of his first classroom the same day. He served in the Army from 1961-1963, stationed in Paris.

Arlo's passion was showing cattle, and he hit the trail from his hometown of Lorraine, KS, where he had a farm and started fitting and showing registered Hereford cattle. He formed Mid-America Cattle Co., a professional fitting and showing service, and hauled cattle all over the country. Arlo moved to Darby, MT, continuing on with his fitting service.

L1 Pacesetter was the 1983 and 1984 National Western Grand Champion Bull and set the pace in the '80s as the two-time champion and one of best breeding bulls of all time. L1 Challenger was the 1984 Reserve Champion at the National Western, Show Bull of the Year and five-time Register of Merit (ROM) champion. Arlo exhibited the grand champion bull at five of the nine ROM shows that year. He was named Top Herdsman during the 1984 stock show.

Shifting between Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, Arlo continued showing cattle and spending the summers in the mountains on horseback, which was his other passion. Few people know how much Arlo loved horses and mules. He also loved the mountains, and his wish was to be cremated and his ashes spread in the mountains of Wyoming.

Arlo judged several county fairs, state fairs and jackpot shows including the 1972 National Junior Angus Showmanship Contest in Lexington, KY; Western Junior Livestock Show in Rapid City, SD, in 1981; the Arizona

National in 2004; Western National Angus Futurity in 1987; and Cow Palace in San Francisco, CA.

In the mid '90s, Arlo purchased a handful of cows from Green Gardens Angus Farm, which was his dad's and brother Dick's operation. Arlo bred most of the cows to TC Stockman and made a run of his own in the registered Angus world, showing TJ Amigo and TJ Poppy to several championship banners. Having now acquired Roll of Victory Bull of the Year and Heifer of the Year on his own, he continued showing and fitting cattle for both himself and outside breeders.

Arlo spent the last years of his life with his daughter in Klamath Falls, OR. He is survived by Andra; his brother, Richard "Dick" Janssen; his sisters, Arvo Jo Walker and Joyce Cotton; two grandchildren, Colton Campbell and Caitlin Leslie; and many great friends. He was preceded in death by his parents and sister, Rachel Janssen. A celebration of life will be held Jan. 8, 2022, at the Cattlemen's Congress in Oklahoma City, OK.

Alma Jean Schohr

Living a life full of fun, travel, flowers, and family Alma "Jean" Schohr, 90, of Gridley, California, entered into eternal rest on Tuesday, November 16th, 2021.

Jean was the daughter of Carl and Abbie (McKenzie) Bachels, born in San Jose, Calif., on May 16, 1931. She grew up on her family's McKenzie Guest Ranch in Mohawk Valley located near Graeagle, California, with her sister, Louise who was 10 years older.

Her early schooling was nearby in the valley in the Sulfer Springs one room schoolhouse. School was during the summer after snowmelt, which, according to her, was an uphill walk, both ways! She later attended Portola High, graduating in 1949.

During WWII, Jean, along with her family, spent time in the Kilkare Woods area in the East Bay, near Sunol, where her father helped lumber operations in ed about was the purchase of BR Validated B413 6035 7098, a cow from the Birdwell ranch in Oklahoma that has "unbelievable carcass traits." She fits perfectly into the Churchill program because Dale believes that once you put together an animal that works for the producers, there's got to be a level of carcass traits to benefit the consumer.

"We have nine sons of her to sell this coming year. They're very exceptional," Dale said.

This past month, Dale and Nancy acquired the top-selling heifer at the Hoffman's annual female sale. They plan to change her name to H BL First Lady.

"She's special in a lot of ways, from her eye-appeal to her data," Dale said.

Through their research and investments in good genetics, the Venhuizens hope to "produce something exceptional" to take their herd to the next level; but most importantly, they believe it's their duty to produce the highest quality Hereford cattle to "go help other producers in their herds" and to "go help across the breed," Dale explained.

That's what it truly is about for the Venhuizen crew. They go to great lengths to make quality cattle, not just for the Churchill name, but for the Hereford breed.

"I'm very proud of the Hereford breed," Dale said. "We just want to work hard, to do our best to make the breed better."

support of war efforts.

Her favorite recollections were stories of her childhood on the guest ranch, with mountain adventures in the Sierras, cooking, caring for livestock, gardening, and helping her family with guests from all over that helped shaped her life, caring spirit, and work ethic.

Her favorite guest? The man who went on to be the love of her life. The story goes, Douglas Schohr fell for the love of his life, when a bear hunting trip to Plumas County was canceled, requiring an overnight stay at the McKenzie Guest Ranch. The pair had met once previously in 1945, but rekindled love took hold in 1949. Jean always claimed he still ended up with a bear! The two were married on January 20, 1951. Doug & Jean “strolled the lane together, laughed in the rain together, and both knew then that it would never end.” They were happily married 61 years, until Doug’s passing in 2012.

While Doug was serving in the United States Army, Jean attended the California State College in Chico (CSU, Chico) teaching program while continuing to help her family on the guest ranch. They would exchange letters often during this time, expressing their love for each other. In 1952, Doug returned from Korea and home to Gridley alongside his wife to farm on the Schohr Ranch west of town.

They built their family and life in a renovated “Bunkhouse” on the ranch, welcoming 3 boys, Carl, Jim and Bill. Raising these boys was a challenge, she would remark “one boy all boy, two boys some boy, three boys no boy” referring to their decision making!

Jean, known as “Mimi” to most, was a mountain girl at heart. She loved going to the cabin her father built in Sierra County to smell the essence of fresh pine and cedar in the afternoon “Mariah” winds, drinking water from the spring, strolling the meadow for a bouquet of wildflowers, and cooking on the wood fire griddle outside. She was a connoisseur of her grandchildren’s “mud” pies there and loved a good book on the porch while tanning her legs!

She enjoyed cooking, canning, baking, knitting, working in her yard, watering, mowing the lawn, pruning roses, watering, feeding the birds, rearranging the flowerpots and more watering!

Most of her cherished travels and memories were spent with her 7 Grandchildren and 11 Great Grandchildren traveling and participating in their activities. For 3 generations she made sure youth sports were cheered on, 4-H whites were starched and blue FFA jackets cleaned, ready for the show or convention. Mickey Mouse knew her well, as there was hardly a calendar without a trip to Disneyland planned for her, Papa Doug and family. She celebrated her 90th birthday at the “Happiest Place on Earth.”

Her legacy continues to live on through her family, son Carl and his wife Susan (Orme) of Gridley; son Jim, of Star, Idaho; son Bill and his wife Lisa (Butler), of Gridley; and niece Abbie Beran of Chico. Grandchildren include Ryan Schohr and his wife Holly Whitaker, of Chico; Steven and his wife Amanda (Farrah) Schohr of Oroville, Jamie (Schohr) and husband Mark Owens of Eagle, Idaho, Tracy Schohr and Ryan Imbach of Gridley; Lee and his wife Taylor (Steadman) Schohr of Meridian, Idaho; Tayler (Schohr) and her husband Bryce Brumley of Oroville, Nevada, and Justin Schohr of Gridley. Great Grandchildren include Kylee and Makenzie Owens; Colton Imbach; Cash Brumley, Brock Schohr; Madison Schohr; Joseph, Madeline and Aiden Schohr; and Steele and Tayson Schohr.

Per her wishes, there is a PARTY to celebrate Mimi’s life planned for 11:30 AM, Thursday, December 9th, 2021, at the Gridley Moose Lodge, 1533 State Highway 99 in Gridley. In Jean’s honor and in lieu of flowers, the family has requested contributions be made to Gridley FFA (300 E. Spruce Street, Gridley, CA 95948) or CSU, Chico, College of Agriculture Scholarship Fund (400 W. Frist Street, Chico, CA 95929-0999).

Cora Goggins

Cora Mae Amdor Goggins of Ennis, MT, 92, passed away on November 29, 2021. She was born on March 3, 1929, to Earl and Cora Hamel Amdor in Harlowton, MT. Her dad worked for the railroad, and she grew up in Harlowton, Sand Springs, and Miles City, graduating from Harlowton High School in 1946. She worked at the local soda fountain through school and a good-looking, red-headed young man was a regular patron. The day after she graduated from high school that young man, Bob Goggins, asked her for a date and they were married on October 30, 1946. This began an epic journey of over 71 years together.

In 1948, they moved to Bear Creek at Cameron, MT, where Bob was the herdsman for Orr Herefords. Cora made a deal with Mrs. Orr to cook the noon meal for the crew all summer, making enough so Mrs. Orr had leftovers for supper. In lieu of payment, Mrs. Orr gave Cora a Hereford steer. Bob fed and fitted the steer and showed him at the Montana Winter Fair where he was named Grand Champion. He sold for $1000, which was quite a sum in the late 1940s. She always joked that was the best paid cooking gig she ever had. In 1959, Bob and Cora bought the home ranch a mile north of Ennis where they raised their family and high-quality Hereford cattle. Cora was well known for her cooking and baking, and it is no coincidence that the livestock fieldmen would drive into the ranch around 11:00 am to look through the cattle, knowing that Cora always served a big ranch dinner at noon. Over the years, she cooked for big cattle working crews and family gatherings and was also famous for her delicious roast beef lunch at the annual bull sale, including her famous Montana wheat salad.

As well-known as she was for her cooking, her baked goods were legendary. When her kids were growing up, she would send baked goods to the school bake sales, but the items seldom made it to the table to be sold because people lurked by the door and pounced upon Cora’s kids to buy whatever Cora had sent with them. Her cookies, dinner rolls, and donuts were amazing, but her homemade bread was the stuff of legend. Cora taught catechism, was a Cub Scout den mother, and a supportive 4-H mom. She volunteered at the Ennis School Library for many years, combining two of her favorite things, kids and books. She also volunteered at the Madison Valley Manor and the Nearly New Shoppe. She served on the Madison County Planning Board, the Madison County Library Board, and was an active member of the Madison Valley CattleWomen.

Cora is survived by her daughters, sons, and daughters-in-law who she considered daughters, Betty Goggins, Janet Endecott, Terri Goggins, Jim and Shelly Goggins, and Pat and Michelle Goggins, as well as grandchildren Coralee (Chad) Butterfield, Rachel Endecott, and Coy (Valene) Goggins, and great-grandchildren Aaron and Marlee Butterfield. Other survivors include sisters Sue (Gary) Foust, Alice (Don) Crum, sisters-in-law Babe Goggins and Millie Goggins, and brother-in-law George Ellinghouse, along with many nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her husband

Final Farewell

Bob Goggins, son Bob Goggins, and son-in-law Bob Endecott, parents Earl and Cora Amdor, stepmother Elizabeth Amdor, brother Bill Amdor, and sisters and brothers-in-law Marlene and Bill Moody and Betty and Gene Gunlock. Cora will be remembered as a pillar of the community, a steadfast ranching partner, and a supportive and loving mother and grandmother. A private family service is planned. Memorials may be made to Madison Valley Medical Center, PO Box 993, Ennis, MT 59729, or St. Patrick's Catholic Church, PO Box 17, Sheridan, MT 59749.

James Courtney

James Edward Courtney was born October 29, 1931 to James M. and Dorothea (Bischoff) Courtney at the beginning of the Great Depression ... drought, dust and hard times were all Dad knew during his early childhood. This humble, meager beginning lit a fire within Dad to make everything he was involved in or touched "better!" Never one to fuss about the negatives of a situation, Dad looked at life through the lens that, with hard work and determination, things could be done better and smarter. He finished his earthly journey on November 19, 2021 at the Spearfish (SD) Canyon Rehab.

With only a high school education, Dad was gifted with a vision and determination to succeed at ranching and raising livestock that few possessed. His passion was to raise the best sheep and cattle, otherwise, why put out the effort. He also felt an obligation to belong to organizations that worked to protect the land and that championed Agriculture. Throughout his life, he belonged to many county, state and national organizations and was often elected to leadership positions.

Dad married Hazel Summers on June 14, 1953. Ranching with sheep and Herefords, Dad and Mom were the perfect team and raised our family to know hard work, to resiliently endure storms and setbacks, yet learn to adapt as we faced challenges. The fifth Courtney generation is now calling the ranch home continuing to build on the foundation laid by decades of commitment and perseverance. Dad's life was a master class in taking modest beginnings forward to a life well lived and passing it on to the next generation!

After Mom passed in 2001, Dad married Della Crago in 2002 and they shared a love for Herefords and ranch life. Della passed in 2012. Alone again, he found companionship with Sondra Giacometto and they married in 2013.

We marveled at Dad's ability to "never stop living." During the past couple years, he faced health issues including heart valve replacement with a steady resolve to get better, but he never stopped driving to the ranch, going to great grandkids' programs and attending community events. He was passionate about living. He lived a full, ambitious and very accomplished life that impacted many. We are proud to be his family.

Left to miss him are wife Sondra; daughter Lezlie and husband Larry Moore, Vivian, SD; daughter Colleen Courtney, Belle Fourche, SD; son Tom and wife Jody, Alzada, MT; 13 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren; sister Virginia Ludwick and her children Roger and Jo and their families; Hazel's brother Ned Summers and wife Patsy and their family. Also saddened by his passing are Sondra's children Sabrina, Leo, Joe and John and their families.

Dad was preceded in death by his parents, wife Hazel, daughter Jeanne Wombold, a stillborn daughter, second wife Della, brother-in-law Bill Ludwick and Hazel's sister Betty and her husband Edwin Loken.

Leon Seefeld

Leon Roy Seefeld, 77, of Harvey, ND died after a courageous battle with cancer on Friday, November 26, 2021, surrounded by his family at a Fargo healthcare center.

Leon was born on April 24, 1944, in Harvey, ND to Arnold and Ida (Mertz) Seefeld. He was raised on a farm in southern Pierce County beside Antelope Lake. He grew up in a hardworking, fun-loving close-knit family. Leon attended a one room classroom school in Truman township. He joined the ND Army National Guard in 1963 and was honorably discharged in 1969.

Leon met the love of his life, Catherine (Lageson) at a dance in Selz, ND. They were married on September 1, 1972, at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Selz, ND. They were blessed with their children Janell, Colleen, Ross, and Sarah all of whom he was very proud.

For 44 years Leon worked road construction as a truck driver all over North Dakota. He could tell you something about every single little town, but most importantly where all the good ice cream shops were.

Leon's full-time passion was raising registered Polled Hereford cattle. He took great pride in raising the best stock he could, becoming a respected cattleman across the state. In 2015, he was awarded the North Dakota Hereford Breeder of the Year. Leon valued being with his fellow cattlemen, making special friendships along the way. He also volunteered his time teaching cattle showmanship skills to youth in 4-H and FFA.

Leon looked forward to spending time with his neighbors and friends, always enjoying good food, a good laugh and a good game of cards. Another past time of Leon's was his love of music. He and Cathy attended many polka, bluegrass, and old country concerts throughout the years. They looked forward to their annual trip to the Medora Musical. Leon was always tapping his toe or whistling, especially to the radio on Sunday afternoons. He did his best to live his life in the way of serving others. He was a long-time active member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus, Harvey Rural Fire Department, Eagles Club, American Legion, Hereford Association and ND Stockman's Association.

Most importantly was Leon's faith. He lived it himself and taught his children to practice it daily, to treat others how you want to be treated, to value the meaning of hard work, to take pride in what you do and to use good old fashion common sense. He taught them over the years the ability to have a conversation with anyone they meet.

Leon is survived by his dedicated wife, Catherine, his children, Janell Seefeld, Moorhead, MN; Colleen (Corey) Aas, Moorhead, MN; Ross (Darcy) Seefeld, Ellendale, ND; and Sarah (Kyle) Helm, Williston, ND; eight grandchildren: Codilynn (Cody), Blake, Nickolas, Hannah, Peyton, Annaliese, Clayton and Alyssa; two great grandchildren: Emory and Juniper; brothers, Francis (Sally), Arnold Jr (Rose); sisters: Rita (Jerry) Weippert, DeLilah Volk and many nieces and nephews. Leon was preceded in death by his parents, infant sister Theresa and brother-in-law Gerald Volk. A life well lived Leon..."Well done, good and faithful servant..." Matthew 25:23.

Courtney, Duncan, Harrell and Micheli Inducted Into Hereford Hall of Fame

Jim Courtney, Alzada, MT; Lawrence Duncan, Wingate, IN; Bob Harrell, Baker City, OR; and Dale Micheli, Fort Bridger, WY, were inducted into the Hereford Hall of Fame Oct. 23, 2021 in Kansas City, MO, during the American Hereford Association (AHA) Annual Meeting and Conference.

The Hall of Fame honor annually recognizes breeders who have dynamically influenced the direction and advancement of the Hereford breed.

"We congratulate these four men for the impact they have made on the Hereford breed," Jack Ward, AHA chief executive officer, said. "Their dedication to the breed is inspiring, and I am honored to induct them into the Hereford Hall of Fame."

Jim Courtney

In 1916, Jim's father homesteaded the land in southeastern Montana that is now Courtney Herefords. Eventually, his father purchased adjoining land in 1929 right before the Great Depression. Despite the hard times, Jim's parents raised sheep and kept the ranch together through the 1930s. Jim graduated from Carter County High School, where he met his future wife, Hazel. He was the 1950 Carter County class salutatorian, but did not go to college. Instead, he returned home to help his parents run the ranch. He continued to build his knowledge and gain insight to the livestock industry by attending many Extension classes related to sheep and cattle breeding. However, Jim credits most of his knowledge to direct experience on the ranch. When Jim and Hazel married in 1953, there was not a cow or bull on the place — just 1,000-1,500 head of sheep.

In 1957, Jim's friendship with neighbor,

Walt Crago, led to the beginning of Courtney Herefords. Walt raised registered Herefords and offered to lease 40 heifers to Jim. All were half-sisters making a solid genetic foundation for the start of the future Courtney herd. Jim leased the Hereford females for three years, retained the heifer calves and sent the bull calves to Walt. The semi-arid, Badlands grassland and limited water resources where the Courtneys reside was considered traditional sheep country since the early days of open range and early settlement. Yet, through diligent stewardship of land and water, Jim established a registered Hereford cow herd and built one of the breed's most respected seedstock programs in this challenging environment. In both the cattle and sheep industries, the Courtney brand is recognized for outstanding quality and functional, efficient stock that fit their climate — the result of a good stockman's eye and a continued quest to improve performance with each generation.

With more than 50 years dedicated to its breeding program, Courtney Herefords became one of the most unique gene pools in the American Hereford breed. Founded upon the Real Prince Domino bloodlines from Canada's premier herds, Jim built his program on structured line-breeding and outcrossing based on time-proven genetics. Courtney's range country environment and the needs of their bull customers strictly dictate the direction of their breeding plan. This is a true grass and cake outfit featuring a factory of great, problem-free, efficient mother cows that hustled, calved on the range and grazed out year round.

The Courtney brand is recognized for powerful, traditional Hereford cattle — multitrait Herefords that accentuated the breed's long-proven strengths for soundness, fleshing ability, fertility and longevity. Loaded with quality, they were backed by the impressive Britisher, Ardmore and Standard Lad sires in North America. Courtney has a complete and thorough knowledge of Canadian Hereford genetics. He knows the cow herds across Alberta as well as any in North America, evaluating them through the eyes of an American cowman, which benefits his program and customers. Jim became the American Hereford Association (AHA) president in 1999 at a time when the Hereford breed needed him most. Jim was a fighter for his industry. Serving several turns as an officer of the Montana Stockgrowers Association and on the board of directors of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association, Jim is known as a man of integrity who will fight for the betterment of the industry. His no-nonsense style and straight-to-the-point attitude is, and has always been, about taking the side of the cattlemen. Deep down, Jim always knows that you have to fight to sustain an economic and political environment for ranchers. His family has depended on it. As it relates to the Hereford breed, Jim helped drive the AHA to focus on the needs of the commercial cow-calf industry.

- » Topp Herefords makes crossbreeding easy—consistently improving net profits in commercial Angus herds. On average, commercial Angus herds can expect a 5 percent increase in weaning weights from heterosis. If the average cow raises seven calves, that's an additional $248 in gross revenue. Multiply that by a herd of 250 cows and you are adding $62,000 to the bottom line without additional inputs. Can you afford not to crossbreed?

Lawrence Duncan

Born in 1935, Lawrence Duncan was raised on the family farm in Montgomery County, IN, where his parents raised registered Duroc hogs and draft horses. At the age of 10, Lawrence began showing Hereford heifers and steers in 4-H at the county and state fairs. After graduating from high school in 1954, he attended Purdue University, majoring in animal husbandry. He married

due, the newlyweds moved into his parents' house and began farming.

In order to buy a place for him and his new bride, Lawrence held his first Hereford sale in 1958. The high-seller went for $1,200. From the beginning, he found the most difficult part of hosting sales came down to organization, particularly organizing help and all of the cattle. Lawrence learned it was necessary to improve the cattle handling equipment and facilities to make it all work. Even after 48 sales, Lawrence was still learning and improving.

Lawrence's dad, Harvey, always said, "If you're able to farm, you should pursue it." While waiting in line for stalls, it occurred to Harvey that nearly everything was done alphabetically. If their name started with an 'A,' it would be listed first. The name Able Acres fit both criteria, so their prefix was 'AA' from then on. Today, Able Acres consists of 140-150 cows, along with 2,200 acres of row crops and hay. Not only has the farm expanded — so has the Duncan family. Through the years, Lawrence and Petzi welcomed five children: four sons, Lary, Gary, David and Andy; and one daughter, Caril. All five children own Hereford cattle and take pride in their involvement in the industry. There are eight grandchildren who also have connections to Lawrence's legacy of owning and raising Hereford cattle.

Lawrence credited his longevity in the Hereford industry to two things: quality genetics and quality relationships. The Duncans have continually adopted new technologies through the years, including in vitro fertilization (IVF) and embryo transfer (ET). Lawrence was an innovator in the Hereford breed. His peers, Ray Ramsey, Bruce Everhart and Rick Davis, credit his efforts to getting more youth involved and educated in the cattle industry. By providing opportunities to work alongside him and get involved in their program, anyone willing to listen was welcomed by Lawrence. He is remembered for doing it the right way, treating people the right way and setting the standard for others to follow. Able Acres utilizes all the tools available to provide reliable, honest and quality genetics that have been sold to buyers throughout the United States.

Lawrence and his family were early adopters of collecting performance data and have been dedicated supporters of the American Hereford Association's (AHA) Whole Herd Total Performance Records (TPR.) program. In addition, Able Acres has been performance testing bulls through the Indiana Bull Evaluation Program (IBEP) for many years. The IBEP has provided valuable data and has helped the Lawrence family continually improve their operation through the years.

Lawrence passed in April 2020 and is being inducted posthumously into the Hall of Fame. Lawrence was a dedicated grain and livestock farmer whose passion was breeding Hereford cattle. His farm, Able Acres, received six Golden Bull Awards from the AHA. Lawrence was selected by his peers to receive the Robert C. Peterson Lynwood Farm Lifetime Achievement Award in 2011. In 2019 Lawrence was inducted into the Indiana Livestock Breeders Hall of Fame

Bob Harrell

In 1870 the ancestors of Bob Harrell, Jr., traveled in a covered wagon across the historic Oregon Trail to Baker City, OR. His parents, Bob and Edna Harrell, established Harrell Hereford Ranch along the foothills of Baker Valley, in the high-country of Eastern Oregon, three generations later. Today, Harrell Hereford Ranch is a family run operation, managed by the fifth and sixth generation of Harrells, consisting of Bob Jr.; his wife, Becky; and daughter, Lexie. Bob was raised in Baker

City and graduated from Baker High School. After graduation, he attended Oregon State University for two years, and then transferred to Kansas State University (K-State). At K-State, Bob competed on the livestock judging team and earned his bachelor's degree in animal science.

The cattle ranch originated in 1970 with 80 acres and 100 head of Hereford cows purchased from Harold Thompson's TT Herefords in Connell, Wash. Under Bob's management, the ranch has grown to six ranches and currently consists of 400 registered Hereford cows, 400 black baldy commercial cows, a 1,000-head backgrounding feedlot and 25 Quarter Horse broodmares. The cattle run on 8,000 acres of high-desert, native range. With the help of six employees, the Harrells also manage 3,000 irrigated, tillable acres of alfalfa and meadow hay, pasture, corn silage, earlage and small grains. The Harrell herd has been enrolled in performance testing since its inception in 1970, and for more than 51 years, the goal has been to produce performance cattle that work under a variety of management systems and branded beef programs.

The discovery and disclosure of genetic abnormalities evolved during this time, as well as the very beginnings of genomic-enhanced expected progeny differences (EPDs), which changed the game in terms of selection accuracy of younger seedstock prospects.

For years, Bob and his family at Harrell Hereford Ranch worked with industry partners to co-host cattlemen from across the western U.S. at their annual "Cattlemen Workshop." He has been a leader willing to educate himself and share with others ways to Bob was on the American Hereford Association Board of Directors from 2006 to 2010. The success of those years was largely driven by a strategic planning effort in 2005, which Bob helped lead. During that time, while chairing the Marketing Committee, he was at the center of the technology revolution, which included the explosive influence of the internet. All these leadership qualities are what made Harrell Hereford Ranch a cornerstone Hereford seedstock operation in the western states. The genetic influence of the Harrell Hereford Ranch has been felt in commercial cowherds across the country. Bob's contribution to the industry drove Harrell Hereford Ranch's recognition as the 2009 Beef Improvement Federation (BIF) Seedstock Producer of the Year — one of the most prestigious recognitions bestowed upon a seedstock operation.

Dale Micheli

Rolling grasslands punctuated with sagebrush and the Uinta Mountains serve as the backdrop to Micheli Hereford Ranch in southwestern Wyoming. In 1917, Joseph Micheli bought the family's first Hereford cattle. Dale Micheli learned to love the Hereford breed from his grandfather, Joseph. As a little boy, Dale accompanied his grandfather each day and watched as Joseph painstakingly fed each bull a "little handful" of grain. Dale never forgot the effort and care his grandfather gave to his treasured bulls.

For many years, the Micheli Family hauled their prized bulls to consignment sales. When Dale came home from college, he was determined to increase herd numbers and dramatically upgrade the genetics of the registered Herefords. He wanted to honor his grandfather by making the purebred cattle a major business on the ranch. Dale began to study pedigrees and work on adding dynamic females to the herd. He invested in prominent sires and implemented artificial insemination (AI) and then added an em-efforts on the next generation of farmers and ranchers.

Beyond working with youth, Dale put in countless hours supporting the Hereford industry in Wyoming. Dale has always been engaged in promoting the Hereford breed and working with other breeders to promote the beef industry. He has been instrumental in hosting Hereford Field Days at his ranch, building the Hereford show at the Wyoming State Fair and finding ways to be active in all aspects of the Wyoming Hereford Association.

A major highlight in Dale's life was serving on the American Hereford Asbryo transfer (ET) program. In 1989, the ranch held its first production sale. Thirty years later, Dale and his brother, Ron, and their sons, Kyle and Tony, who are the fifth generation, have been successfully selling up to 50 Hereford bulls each year.

Dale graduated with honors from the University of Wyoming, where he was successful in both livestock and meat judging. He has continued to judge livestock throughout the years and has had the privilege of judging national Hereford shows at Fort Worth, Reno, The Cow Palace, San Antonio and the National Western Stock Show. For more than 25 years, Dale coached 4-H and FFA livestock and meat judging teams. His state champion teams consistently placed in the top tier nationally. Whether it is coaching state champion teams or helping a kid with a heifer project, Dale always focuses his sociation Board of Directors. It was an honor and privilege to visit ranches across the country and see the diversity and ingenuity of many great Hereford breeders. For three years, he served as chairman of Certified Hereford Beef, giving his leadership to impact the future.

Dale is a deeply religious man and volunteers and serves extensively in his church. The most important thing in Dale's life is his family. Dale and his wife, Terry, are the proud parents of six children — Mandy, Kyle, Audrey, Nikki, Amber and Cami — and the grandparents of 13 grandchildren. Dale is rarely without the company of his grandkids in the tractor, where they sing songs and make frequent stops for treats.

Birdwell, Meents Inducted Into Hall of Merit

Jim Birdwell, Fletcher, OK, and John Meents, Jenera, OH, were inducted to the Hereford Hall of Merit Oct. 23 at the American Hereford Association (AHA) Annual Meeting and Conference in Kansas City, MO. Hall of Merit inductees have greatly influenced the Hereford breed and cattle industry.

"Jim and John have been tremendous marketers of the Hereford breed," Jack Ward, AHA chief executive officer, said. "They are both very deserving of their induction into the Hereford Hall of Merit."

Jim Birdwell

The Birdwell legacy started with a land drawing and a five-year commitment. The family made their home in Fletcher, OK, by drawing a quarter section from a lottery for the land available for settlement. Thanks to the Homestead Act of 1862, the Birdwells just needed to live and work the land for five years before it became theirs. Jim continues to live and farm on the property originally gained by his great grandfather. He still has the original

The couple has been there since. Jim taught high school students for five years, but the Lord had other plans for his future. Ed Meacham was the head of the Western field staff of the American Polled Hereford Association (APHA). He called Jim about an opening on the field staff, which Jim accepted. Jim had to sell $20,000 worth of advertising. The drawback was you could buy a page of advertising for about $300 at that time. Jim served APHA members in Oklahoma and Kansas from 1972 to 1975 before he found his true calling.

Jim travelled with Eddie Sims, auctioneer and owner of National Cattle Services, Inc. Eddie gave Jim a new appreciation for the auction business. Fortunately for Jim, Eddie's business expanded at an opportune time, and he was able to begin work with National Cattle Services, Inc., in 1975. Jim didn't attend an official auctioneering school, but he learned the business and listened to several different auctioneers. He would practice while traveling up and down the road and developed a chant that didn't run people out of the barn. Just three years after joining

John Meents

Col. Kevin Wendt, Ohio auctioneer and longtime friend, worked many auctions with John Meents over the years. Kevin learned from John to be honest and tell the truth; have faith that things called, Hochstetters.

At Hochstetters, he peddled pet feed, and at home, he and his wife Peg raised their children, Jay, MaeLyda and Emily. The livestock industry didn't forget John's marketing talents, though. Previous American Hereford deed, signed by President Theodore Roosevelt.

Jim attended Oklahoma State University (OSU) to study agricultural education. After graduation, he headed to Union City, Okla., to teach high school agriculture courses. Jim had a quick-kinded friendship with the owner of the local service station, as well as with those who frequented the gathering place for coffee and conversation. Jim would go to the station after school, and all the farmers would be there. Not only did Jim befriend the owner of the station, but he also taught his son in school.

Little did he know, he would soon be introduced to someone new: his future wife, the station owner's daughter Jeanne. Jim and Jeanne married, and in 1972, they made the move from Union City to Fletcher to buy the land across from the family's homestead.

National Cattle Services, Jim decided to use his cattle marketing skills to launch his own auction business in the summer of '78.

Between Jim's contacts in the registered cattle business and advertising efforts, he was able to auction at a variety of sales until his retirement in the fall of 2020. His many years of service to the livestock industry across the United States and Canada will not soon be forgotten. The cattle business has always been a stronghold for the Birdwell family.

Joel and Jamie, the two Birdwell children, both attended OSU, just like Jim and Jeanne, and stayed connected to the cattle business upon graduation. The Birdwell children also maintain a close connection with the Hereford breed. With the five Birdwell grandchildren growing up around the business, the legacy of the family lives on.

will work out, but always be honest. After turning his tassel at Purdue University, John landed his first livestock marketing job as a fieldman for the American Yorkshire Club (AYC) in 1978. The first sale he worked was the record-shattering McGraw Yorkshire production sale that sold more than 760 head for $283,195 — a record that still stands as the most breeding hogs sold in a single production sale.

Before the sale, John received the best advice a young ringman can receive from legendary swine auctioneers, Col. Mark Pickel and Col. Dan Baker — remember who bid and what they bid. Armed with these words of wisdom, John traveled 98,000 miles in his 11 months of AYC employment. Then he was tapped by another livestock legend, Neil Orth, to join the Drovers Journal fieldstaff.

At the time John joined, the publication was hoping to create a swine-specific sister publication. John dove in, driving many miles, visiting with producers about their stock for sale and learning about effective ways to use print advertisements. John cut his teeth in the industry with livestock merchandising legends such as Wade Houser, Jay George, Jay Carlson, Lyle Eiten and Ken Torr. Although John's role at Drovers changed to be cattle-centric rather than swine focused, his dedication to helping producers find ways to sell stock never wavered. For 12 years, John did just that until the Drovers fieldstaff dissolved in 1991. After Drovers, John worked briefly for the American Polled Hereford Association before the many nights away from his young family called him home to Ohio, where he joined a local country store

Association (AHA) executive vice president Craig Huffhines called to see if he would work the ring at one sale. But, that one sale turned into another, then another, then another before John was offered a role as the AHA Upper Midwest Region field representative. On Aug. 1, 2000, he officially started with the Association.

Every state newsletter column John penned ends with the sentence, "Make your cattle better today because you have to market them tomorrow," a sentiment John believed throughout his entire livestock marketing career. Whether a breeder registered two calves a year or 200 with the Association, John made himself available as a resource, sounding board and friend to AHA members. He worked hard to sell their animals both in the sale ring and privately, offered industry insights for advertising and breeding decisions and cheered on multiple generations of Hereford showmen and women.

Today, John's home is in Jenera, Ohio. He and Peg live across the road from her parents, and the couple run a few crossbred cows and bale hay on their rolling, grassy acres. Looking back over his years as a field representative, often putting 50,000 to 60,000 miles on his car each year, he hopes to be remembered for one thing: fairness. No matter if you registered one animal or 200 animals, John wanted to treat everyone equally. The qualities John embodied as a member of the fieldstaff, are those worthy of his induction into the American Hereford Association Hall of Merit.

Each week, we buy corn fed finished cattle primarily in this region. However, we reach beyond the strike zone to find the best Herefords wherever they might be fed in the Midwest. Even after we’ve concluded our normal weekly trade, we are never too full for Herefords and Baldies. We are always in the market to buy finished Herefords and we offer a premium per head for Hereford program qualifiers. If you’d like your finished calves in our Hereford program, we can introduce you to partner feed yards who custom feed or who buy Hereford and Baldie calves. Whether you want to market your feeder calves or retain ownership, let us help you direct your load lot Hereford influenced feeder cattle into our primary trade area.

Everhart Elected President of AHA, Goehring Vice President

Bruce Everhart, Waldron, IN, was announced as the new president of the American Hereford Association (AHA) during the Annual Membership Meeting in Kansas City, MO.

Everhart and his wife, Shoshanna, own and operate Everhart Herefords, a more than 50-year-old purebred operation consisting of 25 head. The operation sells bulls, steers and heifers to commercial cattlemen and junior members in the Midwest and utilizes grass and wood pastures not suitable for corn and soybean production. The herd was built on junior heifers purchased annually from Wiese and Sons over a 15-year period. Breeding some of the best females from this iconic herd to some of the most elite bulls of the breed has produced champions at state and national shows. The highlights of the Everhart program are raising the reserve supreme heifer at the Indiana State Fair and the reserve national champion female at the Junior National Hereford Expo.

Everhart retired in 2018 after a 40-year career in agricultural banking. He managed a team in the Midwest with Wells Fargo Bank. Everhart is also a board member and past president of the Indiana Hereford Association.

Everhart also serves on the Rush Shelby Energy cooperative board and is a member of the Indiana State Fair Commission. He and his wife of 41 years, Shoshanna, have two children — son, Blake, and his wife, Ashley, and daughter, Jordan, and her husband, Brian — and six grandchildren.

“I am honored to lead the Association into a year of possibilities,” Everhart said. “The Hereford breed is positioned with innovative members who strive to breed quality cattle that will produce a premium product for the breed industry. As a lifelong Hereford breeder, I have deep respect for the past and a strong belief in the future. I look forward to visiting with members and industry leaders to address their questions and learn ideas to continue propelling our breed forward.”

Goehring Selected as Vice President

Selected to serve as the 2021 vice president was Bill Goehring, Libertyville, IA. The Goehring family began in the Hereford business in 1973. Goehring Herefords’ registered cow herd consists of 150 spring-calving cows and 50 fall-calving cows, and their commercial Angus herd includes 400 spring-calving cows and heifers. The Goehring family breed 100 registered heifers every year as well as 450 black and black-whiteface heifers for their annual sale, held the first Wednesday in December.

Additionally, they background 800 to 1,000 steers and finish 500 cattle at custom yards. Bill grew up on a small farm in southeast Iowa. He graduated from Iowa State University with a degree in animal science and then attended the World Wide College of Auctioneering. In August 1986, Bill’s family purchased a local livestock market in Keosauqua, IA.

At the time the market needed a lot of work, so their first priority was building a feeder pig sale. The sale grew quickly, and for more than 15 years, the Goehring family sold 1,000 to 2,000 pigs weekly. When the hog business consolidated, they began to push their cattle sale and through relationships built in the feeder pig sale they were able to gain strength in the competitive cattle market. They now market 40,000 head annually in addition to market hogs, sheep, goats and hay.

As the sale grew, so did the Goehring family — Bill and his wife, Becky, have four sons — Curtis (Lauren), Lucas (Cody), Ted (Rachelle) and Colby (Hannah) — and one granddaughter.

Growing up, Bill was very active in junior leadership. He held positions on the board of the Iowa Junior Hereford Association, where his parents served as advisors for most of his junior career. He also served on the American Junior Hereford Association board of directors. Bill went on to serve on the board of directors for the Iowa Hereford Association and was president for two years. In 2013 and 2015, he had the honor of being asked to judge the National Hereford Show in the Yards at the National Western Stock Show.

Additionally, Bill is an active member of both the Iowa and the National Livestock Marketing Associations and served as the Iowa state president for two years. He has been a judge at the World Livestock Auctioneer Championship and has traveled to Washington, D.C., with the Livestock Marketing Association. He also serves on the Iowa Beef Council.

Directors elected

Delegates elected three new directors during the membership meeting. Chad Breeding, Miami, TX; Lou Ellen Harr, Jeromesville, OH; and Travis McConaughy, Wasola, MO, will serve four-year terms on the 12-member Board. Completing their terms on the AHA Board were outgoing president Mark St. Pierre, El Nido, CA; Nate Frederickson, Spearfish, SD; and Joe Waggoner, Carthage, MS.

Chad Breeding

Chad Breeding of Miami, TX, was raised working on his family’s registered Hereford operation, B&C Cattle Co. When he was 4 years old he was already riding horseback with his granddad, Earl, checking the herd. After graduating high school in 1988, he went to college. After completing his degree at Texas A&M, Chad returned home to the family operation, which markets about 100 Hereford bulls and 50 replacement females annually.

Chad’s love for the Hereford breed flourished when he returned home, as he started breeding cows and working in the show barn. Chad’s knowledge, gleaned from his father, William Breeding, gave him the ability to compete with show cattle on a national level, while also producing beef cattle with the genetic merit the market demands. Through the continued use of artificial insemination (AI) and embryo transfer (ET), the B&C brand is trusted across the country for sound, functional cattle that work in the showing and excel in the pasture. While they sell a few show heifers, the majority of their cattle are sold to the commercial producer, mostly to Brahman cowmen who produce the sought after F1 known as the maternal Queen of the South.

Chad and his wife, Erin, have five children — Austin, 21; Blayke, 19; Wyatt and Lillian, 4; and Blair, 2. Fatherhood emphasized the importance of family and the value of passing down honesty, an ethic of hard work and a better life. After returning to Miami, a small town in the Texas Panhandle, Chad became active in the community. He has served on the stock show board since 2002 and as chairman since 2010. He was elected to the city council in November of 2005. He has been the Miami mayor since 2009. He also serves on the board of trustees of the First Christian Church. Chad is an active member of the Texas Hereford Association, serving on the board since 2011, including stints as president in 2016 and 2017.

Lou Ellen Harr

Lou Ellen Harr, along with her husband, Jeff, and daughter, Keayla, own and operate J&L Cattle Services in Jeromesville, OH. The operation started in 1996 when Lou Ellen's former employer, Big T Ranch, was sold, and one of the farms was purchased. Originally a custom fitting service with a handful of cows, the operation has evolved to about 100 females, including 70 registered Hereford cows, a handful of registered Angus cows and commercial cows used as recipients for their ET program. J&L custom raises and collects data on approximately 100 head of heifers for purebred clients.

A small feedlot completes the enterprise with the fat cattle marketed on the rail to a source-verified program demanding Choice and Prime carcasses. The family also farms hay and row crop ground. Cattle carrying the JLCS prefix are marketed through a semi-annual sale, the J&L and Guests Sale. Since the first sale in 2005, cattle have been marketed into more than 20 states and Canada. Growing up in Missouri on a small farm with a few Hereford cows, Lou Ellen attended the University of Missouri and Kansas State University to obtain a master's degree in reproductive physiology. She then went to work for Hereford breeders in Missouri and Virginia before managing the show and sale cattle at Big T Ranch in Ohio.

In addition to managing the day-to-day operations at J&L, Lou Ellen works more than 10 purebred Hereford sales per year where she helps sell cattle on a commission basis. Lou Ellen also teaches at the Ohio State University Agriculture Technical Institute each fall where she educates college students about livestock evaluation and selection. Lou Ellen and Jeff have helped numerous young people get involved in the Hereford breed and are strong advocates of the NJHA. Lou Ellen is a lifetime member of the AHA, having previously served on the nominating committee. As a director on the Buckeye Polled Hereford Association, she served on the committee that joined the state's polled and horned Hereford associations. Lou Ellen currently serves on the Ohio Beef Council, overseeing the state's checkoff dollars. J&L Cattle Services was named Seedstock Producer of the Year by the Ohio Cattlemen's Association in 2018.

Travis McConnaughey

Travis McConnaughey was born and raised on a seedstock Hereford operation previously owned by his grandparents, Calvin and Jean Watson. Travis and wife, Sarah, own and operate the family's ranch, which is now known as WMC Cattle Company in Wasola, MO. They have expanded the ranch to include 1,300 acres, approximately 300 Hereford cows and 150 commercial cows. WMC Cattle Company is a progressive program that collects carcass ultrasound measurements and actual data on their purebred calves, in addition to using the latest technology, such as AI, ET and genomics.

From 2001-2006, Travis was self-employed in the construction field. He returned home in 2006 to help his grandfather on the ranch. Travis and Sarah married in 2011 and purchased the ranch, which had 66 Hereford cows at the time.

WMC Cattle Company hosted its first annual female production sale in 2019 — the Ladies of the Ozarks. Next came the first annual WMC Bull and Commercial female sale in 2020. Travis manages the ranch as a business. He demands high performance from his cattle with minimal inputs. His high standards, open mind and willingness to change stack the odds toward the operation's financial sustainability for generations to come. Currently, the next generation includes Jett, 7 and Watson, 6. WMC Meat Co., a small meat sales business, is the ranch's most recent addition. It opened another avenue for the ranch to capitalize on the quality it produces.

Travis is the current president of the Missouri Hereford Association; he was vice-president the previous two years and has been on the board six years. In 2020, WMC Cattle Company was recognized as the Missouri Purebred Breeder of the Year. Beyond the Hereford scene, Travis is a fifth-year member of the Ozark County Soil & Water board. He is also serving his second term as president and his fifth year as a board member of the Farm Service Agency.

Byron Classics

Editor's Note: Byron Bayers, Jill's dad, is the former editor and co-founder of Hereford America. He passed away in 2018. Many readers ask for re-runs of his editorials and we intend to do that. This one is from the January 2017 issue. It's interesting to look back.

On Veteran's Day all the Veterans in our valley were invited to the Twin Bridges school for a Veteran's Appreciation Day. We had Veterans attending that had been in the service during every war from World War Two to the present. I am one of two in the valley still surviving from the Korean War. When we arrived at school we were taken to our seats in the gymnasium at the high school. One side of the gym was filled with all the grade school students and part of the high school students, including the senior class. We were each introduced to the students and told of the war in which we served. The girls Glee Club, who are very accomplished, in fact they are so good that they sang the Star Spangled banner at one of our major colleges this year, sang God Bless America. All of us then pledged Allegiance to the Flag, and after that, several members of the students and staff read patriotic poems about Veterans. At the end all of the kids sang a song to us. As these festivities were occurring, I couldn't help but notice how this was affecting so many of the Veterans. Tears were dripping down the faces of many of us guys, who had lost close friends in the various wars in which they served. When I went to college just before the Korean War, I was put in a room at the dormitory with eight different freshmen, one who became a good friend of mine and probably one of the closer friends that I had in College, by the name of Jerry Wright from Salmon, ID. He had come from a logging family and they were the kind of people that really knew how to work hard. His ambition was to go thought college and get a degree in Forestry and then go home and work in the forestry industry in Idaho. At that time all of us had to make the decision as to whether to go in to the ROTC program or to take a chance on being drafted before our college days were done. We had a lot of World War Two veterans around us in college and most of them gave us younger guys advice to get into the service area that you would like. Jerry and I signed up for four years of training in the ROTC program, I chose the Air Force, but Jerry chose the Army unit, because he felt like his experience on the ground would be much more to his abilities than possibly flying in the Air Force. Upon graduation I was sent to San Antonio, TX and Jerry was sent to Fort Ord, CA. We were so busy we did not communicate with each other during our service days but in my second year in the Air Force I got thinking about Jerry and I thought I should try to contact him. I wrote a letter to his Salmon, ID address, but it came back unclaimed. I knew his brother, who also lived the Salmon ID area, so I wrote to him and told him I was wondering about Jerry, because the letter I had sent to Jerry was returned. I heard back from Jerry's brother within a month notifying me that First Lieutenant Jerry Wright had been killed in action in Korea, on a major assault by the American army, ascending a mountain in Korea in 1953. That is about the same time that I was notified of a young rancher friend of mine, that lived about three miles from us, that had been killed at sea. We Veterans that are still alive and were able to return home from the Military were the lucky ones. Veteran's Day honors all of us Veterans but we really honor the most, those who did not come home. The kids and school did a nice job of honoring us at our school, but we all felt saddened that day as we left the school, because of the memories of our fallen friends.

The AHA announced the BOLT this week. Several things were unfortunate in that the computer glitch that occurred the day of the announcement kept everybody in wonderment about what had happened. In the next several days as those glitches were corrected you could start to make more sense in some of the results. While I was in Kansas City for the AHA convention, I sat in on a seminar where a major discussion was held on the BOLT activities that would basically change all the EPD data as we knew it. I have only been able to search data on 50 head or so, but the data in most cases shows major changes in some of the EPDs. This is a major change for the industry because people have worked for so many years on getting their cattle with the EPDs that were advantageous to the operation, and the breeders, for breeding and selling the cattle. Then came along the "50K test" which was proclaimed to be something of the future to foresee what our cattle would be at a younger stage in their life, or it would solidify the data on older cattle that we were using. Most breeders throughout the industry, I believe, felt like this system was getting pretty solidified and it was something they could go on with. Now BOLT has created a new technology introduction into the Hereford breed for our EPD system. Many people with the right animal will prosper and many people who thought they had the right animals, but whose EPDs fell dramatically, will obviously be hurt. Some people are worried that their program was devastated, going back three generations, and it will be hard to recover. It is my firm hope that the current BOLT numbers will prove to be extremely accurate, and that we can build or rebuild our breed on that data. In my lifetime in the Hereford breed we have forged through a lot of problems even though in some cases it has been very difficult. I hope is that this program will prove to be very good and we can get all of the current glitches removed in a very short time and the breed can go on its way.

As we were cruising along at 35,000 feet at over 600 miles an hour on our way from Bozeman to Minneapolis aboard a Delta Airbus 320, I couldn't believe that I was going back to Kansas City. Sitting around me were Marc and Jill Bayers Hotchkiss, Kathy Bayers, Rich & Mary Ann Bayers and Rick & Lynn Terry, Lynn who is my office and cow manager, also with us was my nephew Howard Lemm. I was advised in a call from Jack Ward a few weeks earlier that I was to be inducted in the Hereford Hall of Fame, at the Hereford Convention, and we were now on our way. I really didn't realize that hardly anyone knew, besides our family about the honor, but the two flight attendants got wind of the honor and three times during the flight congratulated me, and I must say we were treated extremely nice by all of the Delta employees on our way to Kansas City. Unbeknownst to me, until we were on our way, that another group of my family had been invited, and six of them were in attendance at the ceremony. I have not been to Kansas City for the annual meeting for 15 years and, yet I was amazed at how many people that were in attendance that I still knew, however, many new faces were also in attendance and I was fortunate to meet many of them. Our family was very well treated by Jack Ward, Shane Bedwell, Judy Mais and the staff of the Hereford World. I had worked closely through the years with most of the other Honorees and, so it was enjoyable to see them honored too. I would like to again thank the Board and Staff of the American Hereford Association for bestowing on me the most prestigious award that can be given to a member of the American Hereford Association. I am highly honored.

Berry Herefords Dec. 9, 2021 Cheyenne, WY Auctioneer: Joe Goggins Reported By Aaron Friedt

58 Bulls — $5,336

For a brief moment in Cheyenne, WY, the wind quit, and the snow came and the cowboys in attendance at The Berry's Annual Hereford Bull Sale were glad to have it. The day was historic for the Berry family, marking the 80th year of Berry bull sales, and the 70th year of bull sales being held in the barn that Jay's father, Marvin, and his two brothers built. As we settled in for introductions, Jay's cousin, Katie Williamson, surprised him by playing a voice recording of Jay's grandfather, Jay C. Berry, talking about days gone by and previous bull sales held. He recounted the early days and the first sale held in 1941. At that first sale, the Berrys sold 30 bulls in an old straw shed, with a top of $365.00, and averaging "200 something" a bull, and being very happy to get it. Bearing witness to all of this was the only person to attend every bull sale the Berry's have ever held, Jay's aunt, Mary Wells. Jay's wife, Janice, celebrated the day by wearing a green knit sweater, made by Aunt Mary, that had a large Hereford bull knit into the design. Also in attendance were Jay's mother, Margaret, and Jay and Janice's three daughters with all of their families.

The barn was the same, but the saying "time marches on" held true. Jay elected to forego setting up the sales ring, and instead hosted a video sale, with TVs provided by The Livestock Link. The crowd was surprised by the change, but it didn't inhibit bidding as this sale was HOT.

Joe Goggins sold a quick, snappy auction of 58

Two Year Old Hereford bulls, of both the polled and horned variety, averaging $5,336. The sale topped on Lot 71, B Amazed 71H, a bull sired by B Amazed 1F ET, purchased for $11,000 by Schaffer Livestock, Rock River, WY. Other highlights include Lot 18 selling for $10,000 to Edwards Livestock from Laramie, WY and Lot 18, selling for $8,750 to Meyring Ranch, Walden, CO.

Sire groups represented in volume were NJW Long Haul 36E ET, BCC Dominator 829F, and B Amazed 1F ET. There were also a handful of bulls from KT Built Tuff 1010, KT Small Town Kid 5051, Churchill Nightcap 7256E and H Hometown 5343ET.

Century Breeders

Noack Herefords

Noack Herefords, Rockdale, Texas, was established in 1921 by E.H. Noack, who registered the 7- brand. When E.H.’s only son, Leon, returned home from Texas A&M, his graduation was rewarded when he was named the cow herd manager. After E.H.’s untimely death a few years later, Leon assumed full responsibility for the ranch and made it into the operation it is today.

Leon spent countless hours studying pedigrees and collecting performance data. Noack Herefords was an early adopter of the Total Performance Registry Program. The operation focused on creating the ideal mama cow, improving birth weights, milking ability and longevity.

Leon spent time working as a meat grader, which taught him the value of consistently producing delicious, tender meat. He was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s disease in 2000 and lost the battle in 2015.

Today, the family ranch consists of three separate cow herds that cooperate on genetics and marketing. Noack bulls are guaranteed to work for four years. Noack Herefords firmly believes form follows function, and the most functional cows are also the most profitable. They have been tremendously blessed and hope to operate another 100 years.

Smathers Herefords, Llano, TX, was honored as an American Hereford Association (AHA) Century Breeder at the Annual Meeting. Pictured is Rick Smathers.

Smathers Ranch

The Smathers Hereford Ranch, Llano, TX, was established in 1886 by James Jefferson Smathers in the heart of the Texas Hill Country in Llano County, TX. James purchased about 500 acres shortly after he married Harriet Spinks, and he purchased his first Hereford cattle shortly after. Over the past 135 years, the ranch has passed from father to son for five generations.

The Smathers Ranch has evolved from 500 acres of raw pastureland to a highly managed, improved grasses, cultivated fields and rotational cell-grazing operation, which maximizes herd production and capacity.

Initially, Smathers Herefords was a commercial herd marketed through on-farm production sales. However, as times have changed and fifth-generation heir, Slade Smathers, showed interest in raising, exhibiting and marketing his own show cattle, production progressed into an AI/embryo system targeted for registered Hereford cattle and show calf sales.

Today, the Smathers Ranch continues to grow and evolve under Rick’s strong belief and commitment to leave things in good working order for future generations.

Ad Deadline for the February Issue of Hereford America is January 5th.

Golden Breeders

Atkins Herefords

Atkins Herefords is located near Tea, SD, on the home farm. The Atkins maintain a select cow herd and utilize AI and embryo transfer to leverage those genetics. Through their partnership with Delaney Herefords, cattle are marketed in two annual production sales — a bull and female sale in late January and an online female and embryo event in October.

With the Delaneys, the Atkins have been blessed to show cattle successfully at the National Western Stock Show, in Denver, CO, and the Cattlemen's Congress, in Oklahoma City, including a National Champion Pen of Heifers and Carload of Bulls.

Pete and Laura have three sons: Scott and his wife, Sarah, and their children: Isla, George and Elouise; Paul and his wife, Sarah, and their son, Theodore; and Craig.

B&D Herefords

Settled in the heart of Kansas, B&D Herefords and Angus, Claflin, KS, was founded in 1969. B&D Herefords hosted its first production sale in 1985 at the rodeo grounds in Odin, Kan. For 36 years, they have held annual production sales each March. Five years ago, B&D added the Fall Classic sale. These sales have focused on performance and production with cattle built to excel in the pasture.

The ranch is now owned and operated by brothers, Craig, Gerald Jr., Kevin and Terry Beran. Gerald Jr.'s son, Matt, returned to the ranch full-time, and Craig's daughter, Bridget, is closely involved as well. Today, B&D runs approximately 800 cows spread across central Kansas. The ranch utilizes an extensive amount of AI and is committed to DNA testing the entire cow herd and each bull marketed in the sales to ensure the most accurate information is available.

Blume Herefords

Gordon Blume and his brother, Gary, purchased their first registered heifer in 1964 from Gilbert Frankenstein, and that was the beginning of Blume Polled Hereford Farm, Frankfort, SD. It continued to grow and expand until 1975 when Gordon and Gary dissolved the partnership. Gordon and his wife, Thordys, continued under the BPHF prefix until horned genetics were added. It was then changed to Blume Herefords.

In the mid-1970s, AI was implemented to better the herd. Embryo transplant was added in the late 1980s, and they continue to use both. Today, Blume Herefords consist of three generations. Gordon and Thordys, along with their son, Michael, and his wife, Becky, and grandchildren, Jayna and Rett. Gordon and Thordys continue with the calving and feeding of the herd, but they enjoy watching their grandchildren compete in the show ring the most.

Circle Y Farm

Circle Y Farm, West Liberty, Ohio, was started in the fall of 1969 by Carl E. Yoder and family. They purchased their first polled Hereford cow at the Walnut Hills Farm Dispersal in 1970. They focus on selling seedstock and freezer beef with freezer beef clients in five different states. They are particularly proud that Alizabeth Kurtz has started showing in junior shows, becoming the fourth generation to carry on the tradition.

Neilyne Genetics

Dave Neil was 10 years old when his first Polled Hereford heifer, Princess, was born on the family farm in Northfield, MN. Princess became a 4-H beef project, which Dave showed as a fall calf in 1968 and a senior yearling in 1969. After, Dave was officially hooked on Herefords.

As a young Hereford breeder, Dave set two goals for himself: show in the National Western Stock Show and earn a championship banner at that same show. In 2012, Dave achieved the goal he had set 30 years earlier.

Dave's Hereford business, Neilyne Genetics, was established by Dave Neil and his family. They look forward to continuing their Hereford business and personal relationships with great Hereford people for the next 50 years and beyond.

Parker Bros. Polled Herefords

David L. Parker of Bradyville, TN, is a seventh-generation Southern farmer, second-generation Hereford breeder and operator of Parker Bros. Polled Herefords. At age 9, David received his first Hereford heifer and has lived, breathed and bred polled Herefords for 62 years. Parker Bros. held its first production sale in 1967 and continues to host production sales every third Labor Day. In 2013, the family started a retail beef sales operation, Parker Family Beef.

Without a doubt, the most important thing in David's life is his family, who all work in some capacity to support the farming operation. Paula, his wife of 47 years, is the mainstay. He has three children, Krista, Brian, and Angela, along with six grandchildren.

Prestwood Beef Cattle

Kim Yates Prestwood, Lenoir, NC, purchased his first Polled Hereford in 1970 from the North Carolina Hereford Association Spring Sale. That same year, Kim became a junior member of the American Hereford Association. His maternal grandfather, Joseph "Guthrie" Bumgarner, had a great influence on Kim's life and his love for cattle.

Kim has two children, Jennifer Smith of Statesville, N.C., and Kyle Prestwood of Walterboro, S.C. Both of Kim's children followed in his footsteps as participants in the National Junior Hereford Association when they were young.

Schuette Land & Cattle, Inc.

Bill Schuette, Highmore, SD, purchased his first Hereford bull in 1940, and Hereford cattle have run on the ranch since. By 1947, the ranch had grown to nine quarters of land and had become a commercial Hereford cattle operation.

Bill and Ellen had three children: Leroy, Jim and Grace. By the time Jim graduated from high school, the ranch had grown to approximately 2,240 acres with about 180 cows. In 1961, Jim married Judy Wilcox, and they continued to live on the ranch, raising quality Hereford cattle. They raised three children on the ranch — Peggy, Sheryl and Jerry. On Jan. 15, 1974, the family ranch was incorporated and became Schuette Land & Cattle Company Inc.

Windmill Acres Farm

Phil Fishel and his wife, Brenda, of 56 years, established Windmill Acres Farm, Barnardsville, NC, in the early '70s. They have two children, Neil and Andie, who grew up in the Hereford breed. Phil is most proud of his grandchildren, Clara, Melanie and Wesley Fishel, and their involvement in the Hereford breed, participating in local and national shows, making herd decisions and most recently Melanie serving as the 2020 National Hereford Queen.

Windmill Acres Farm is still managed today by Phil and Brenda, as well as Neil and his wife, Karen, Andie and her husband, Wes Carpenter, and the three grandchildren. Their focus is to raise productive, efficient cattle that exemplify the longevity and strong maternal traits of the Hereford breed.

Y Cross Herefords

Greg Thomas has been in the purebred Hereford business his entire life. Greg, along with his wife, Maureen, raised their three sons, Rees, Zack and Garrett in Bonanza, OR, on the Y Cross Hereford Ranch. It's a family operation, with the boys now grown and the grandchildren coming out to help with ranching duties. Y Cross Herefords has marketed its bulls all along the West Coast, mainly by private treaty, but has also taken bulls to consignment sales. Y Cross mainly consigned to the prestigious Red Bluff Bull Sale, where it has had the Champion Hereford sale bull for seven years in a row.

South Dakota Hereford Association 2021 Award Winners

Producer of the Year

Cody Williams-Ponto
Stenberg Herefords

The 2021 Producer of the Year goes to an operation with a long history of high quality cattle. Although the front man of this operation has changed within the last 10 years the importance of SDHA and the SDJHA has not changed but has only gotten stronger. Cody Williams-Ponto of Stenberg Herefords, has accomplished a great deal since taking over the reins.

Stenberg Herefords was started in 1936 by Ove Stenberg, taken over by his son Dave and wife Audrey in the late '60s. David's daughter Vonda and family were involved in Stenberg Herefords until 2004 when they relocated to Wisconsin. After high school graduation Cody started making his way back to South Dakota and in 2011 after helping his grandpa Dave with his operation the conversation was had about the future of Stenberg Herefords. In 2012 Cody and his wife, Kasey, started the transition into ownership and now with the help of Cody's grandparents own and operate Stenberg Herefords which consists of about 75 Hereford cows. Cody's willingness to go above and beyond to help any Junior achieve their goals has been noticed by many. Stenberg Herefords main drive is to produce high quality herd bulls that can be utilized by both seedstock and commercial producers. Cody also offers elite heifers and steers for sale at the SD Excellence Sale. One of the highlights for Stenberg Herefords to date was to exhibit not only Champion Hereford bull at the 2021 South Dakota State Fair but this bull went on to be chosen as the Supreme Champion Bull over all breeds. Although Cody is quite humble and won't say much about winning the fair he is very clear about having the opportunity and the importance of using the showing to mentor the next generation to instill strong teamwork, ethics and responsibility.

Enthusiast of the Year

Ollerich Cattle Co.

Ollerich Cattle Co was started by Robert Ollerich after serving in the Korean War in 1953. Tom is one of eight brother and sisters and they were raised on a farm west of Garretson, SD.

Tom was a member of FFA and 4-H showing cattle at the Minnehaha county fair and South Dakota State fair. Tom graduated from high school in 1983 then went on to Western College of Auctioneering.

The summer he graduated high school, Tom purchased 20 head of Brangus bred heifers and started in the cattle business. Times were tough in the mid 1980s and Grandpa Bob told Tom if you can't make it in the cattle business you might have to get a job selling shoes at the big new empire mall in Sioux Falls. Perseverance and the heart to be in the cattle business drove Tom to work harder and smarter. Many years of riding with Grandpa Bob buying cattle in Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota and North Dakota along with the mentorship from family friend and business partner Byran Long of Buffalo, WY instilled the love of the cattle business in Tom and Ollerich Cattle Co. Tom and Ollerich Cattle Co. have been very active in the Hereford business. Many deals have been made on numerous pot loads of bawling calves, backgrounded calves and yearling cattle off grass. Each Hereford Special Sale that has been held in Mitchell, you are sure to see Tom in the stands bidding and buying.

When sale barns get Hereford cattle coming in, they are picking up the phone, contacting Tom to let him know they have a great set of Herefords coming to the barn. Ollerich Cattle Co. continues to be a family business. Tom's brother Tim, Tom's son Ty and myself (Ryan, Tom's nephew) all contribute to the business. From August 1st thru Thanksgiving Tom's office is his Ford F-350 pickup with the South Dakota License Plate "Cattle." Many nights in a motel, early morning coffee with a rancher or a late night steak with a feedlot discussing what breed of bull to purchase (Hereford of course) or what packer buyer might buy my finished cattle are conversations and phone calls he enjoys most.

South Dakota Hereford Weekend Candid

One of the biggest SDHA banquet crowds in about 15 or 20 years enjoyed the evening complete with Hereford, bone-in New York strips and a large Silent Auction offering along with an evening of awards and auctions.

Troy Williamson putting on some finishing touches.

The cattle barn at the Swiffl Center in Brookings, SD is a relatively new venue for the SD Excellence Sale and is proving to be a popular one for both consignors and buyers.

Final Farewell

Burdine Ann Homm

Burdine Ann (Richards) Homm was born Aug. 25, 1926, at home in Burlington, CO. She returned safely home on Wednesday, Oct. 17, 2021.

Burdine was the fourth child of John and Mayme (Anderson) Richards. She graduated from Burlington High School in 1944 and taught school at Ritzius 48J for a number of years.

On Feb. 3, 1945, Burdine married Howard Homm in Wray, CO. The couple made their home on the ranch north of Burlington.

Howard and Burdine welcomed four children, Larry, John, Richard and ZuAnn.

Besides working the ranch alongside Howard and raising her family, Burdine was active at Immanuel Lutheran Church Ladies Auxiliary, Kit Carson County Cattleman's Association Cow Belles, and both state and national Hereford Associations.

She held numerous offices in these organizations making lifelong friends across the state and country.

She was a staunch supporter of Hereford cattle and spent 50+ years alongside her family at the National Western Stock Show raising and showing Hereford cattle.

Always the storyteller, Burdine, together with Howard, authored several books about Eastern Colorado history and Hereford cattle.

Our Pioneer Heritage detailed the history of the Evangelical Lutheran Church and its congregation and led Burdine on an adventure to save the original cemetery from the old sod church.

She and a team of family and friends worked to restore the cemetery grounds as well as making the case for the cemetery to be installed on the state register.

The Hereford Heritage book outlined the history of cattle ranchers across Colorado and came with its own adventure traveling the state and compiling stories from the ranchers themselves.

Burdine traded one adventure for another in time spent with her grandkids and great grandkids. She and Howard often enthusiastically volunteered to stay at home with the kids while their parents were out.

The great-grandkids even gave her a name that she treasured, "Grandma Great!"

Burdine was so proud of every one of her family and was happiest when the house was filled with 10 grandchildren and eventually 17 great-grandchildren.

She could often be found teaching "the kids" all kinds of mischief.

Burdine was preceded in death by her parents, John and Mayme (Anderson) Richards; sister, Elva Powell; brothers, David, Harry, and Robert Richards; son, John Homm; daughter-in-law, Diane Homm; and husband of 64 years, Howard.

She is survived by son, Larry Homm and wife, Dee of Burlington, CO; son, Richard Homm of Oakley, KS; daughter, ZuAnn Tuell and husband, Ross of Wray, CO; 10 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and a host of family and friends. She will be greatly missed.

Memorials may be made to Kit Carson County Ambulance Service or to the Kit Carson County Memorial Hospital in Burdine's name and may be left at or sent to Love Funeral Home, 377 15th Street, Burlington, CO 80807.
